

THE PUBLIC BUILDING.

STEPS TAKEN TO INCREASE THE APPROPRIATION—THE INADEQUACY OF THE PRESENT ALLOWANCE FOR THE STRUCTURE.

Steps are being taken and pressure brought to bear on congress to induce that body to increase the appropriation for Duluth's public building to an amount in some way commensurate with the needs of the government here and the officers to be accommodated. The site has been bought and paid for, the last of the $100,000 appropriation made available and plans have been ordered and are now under way at Washington. If these efforts to get a larger appropriation are to be successful and are to avoid anything they want to be taken at once, before plans are completed and work on the building begun, for after that any change will be much more expensive and less liable to be made. The old scheme of securing one after another additional appropriation to "complete" a public building until its cost was several times the original estimate was so thoroughly exploded at the last session of congress that it is not likely to be much heard of for some time to come.

That Duluth needs a larger and better building than the one now in use is a fact well known to anyone who will for a moment consider the use to which such a building will be put. In the first place there is the postoffice, now in the first class and handling six or seven million pieces of local mail yearly besides a great quantity of other mail for which the office is and must always be in charge. If this business increases as in the past few years it will be double the present figure in 1891. The custom house, another of the business in reporting and clearing vessels fifth in the United States on lake and ocean, and also growing with a regularity most wonderful, the land office, having more unsettled and uncollected land in its limits than almost any office in the northwest, the hall and boiler inspection department, which stretches from Duluth to the Missouri and Mississippi rivers; the engineer office in charge of all harbors on the greatest of lakes; the signal service; the local fish hatchery, the largest in the country. Besides these there is the immediate presence of the United States circuit and admiralty courts which will require a large amount of room. All these will need the great vault accommodated by their valuable papers and records. A moment's look at buildings heretofore constructed by the government will show that room for so much business is not available. It is the effort of the chamber of commerce to increase this by at least $100,000 and it is possible to double it.

If you are going east or south to spend the holidays, call at the City ticket office of the Northern Line and secure cheap rates and tickets.

Lots in Portland and Endon.
C. E. Lovett & Co.

AMONG THE SPORTS.

The Minneapolis Star says that "Patsy Carroll is now in fact in the condition of an athlete and is ready for his fight Friday night with Patsy McDonald, who gave Pat Killen a lively fight two years ago, and on whose legs Killen broke his pious right hand."

It is practically arranged that Cardin and Jackson will meet in St. Paul, Minn., April for the purse of $2,500 offered in the California Athletic club. Said a leading sportswriter, "Cardin is a real horse, and he will whip the ducky Australian in a flash fight. He is clever and knows how to avoid punishment the best of any man I have ever seen in the ring. He is not a success in short fights, but he is a stayer, and he thinks the chances are in his favor with Jackson."

Earl Duluth's old time favorite, has become a great favorite with both the public and the players of the Australian aggregation. Cincinnati has already been offered $2,000 for his release.

The great skating race for the world's championship, between Earl Paulsen, the European champion, and the American champion, Jack Fogarty, of Philadelphia, is making arrangements to go to San Francisco for the purpose of meeting the winner of the last year's race, Young Mitchell.

John Thompson, the fancy skater, has challenged Earl Paulsen to skate a match for points for $1,000 a side.

John Graham, of England, has challenged H. M. Dufur, of Marlboro, Mass., to a mixed wrestling match for $1,000 a side.

Remember the fancy dress carnival at Lake Avenue rink Thursday evening.

Special bargains in lots in Helm addition.
C. E. Lovett & Co.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

Ohio State Journal: The widow of John Brown is today one of the most pathetic characters on the Western continent.

New York Mail and Express: "Can not some Samson be found in the house of representatives to walk off with this Weaver's beam that has blocked legislation for three days?"

Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle: The next Republican president will show good sense if he does not make the Southern question any more prominent than the western question or the New England question.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The unanimous nomination of Senator Culver as his successor by the Republicans of the Illinois legislature will be a great blow to him and to the state. He has rendered diligent and faithful service, and the Republicans of the whole country will be glad to know that he is to remain in a position to which he is so well adapted.

Springfield (Mass.) Union: Tacoma for Washington Territory and Winona for Southern Dakota, are very generally accepted as pleasing and equitable names. Montezuma for New Mexico is no more appropriate than Cortez or Pizarro would be. Montezuma never had anything to do with New Mexico, and probably never knew anything about the country. The name Cholo, by which the region was first known to the Spanish conquerors, would not be a bad one.

Cincinnati Commercial: At the work, which is bad enough, Weaver is of little consequence. The attention of the country is fixed upon the Democratic majority which though in full control in the house, and able to dispose of Weaver whenever it will, sits quietly by day after day and does important public business of the session, and accumulated congress on minor measures, elated by a victorious lobby and its representation on the majority side of the house.

Fancy dress carnival at Lake Avenue Rink Thursday evening.

Money to loan
On furniture, horses, wagons and any chattel security in amounts to suit borrower.
A. C. LAMSON, room 5 Mile block.

Mr. Knight's Attention!
Officers and Sir Knights of Duluth Division No. 3, U. L. O. K. P., will assemble in full dress uniform at armory, Hunter block, Wednesday January 16th, at one o'clock p. m. sharp to participate in the funeral ceremonies of Sir Knight John O. Grube. All Sir Knights and visiting Sir Knights are requested to join with Duluth Division.
By order of
F. G. Voss, W. L. PERCY,
S. K. R. S. K. C.

Six houses for rent at prices ranging from $10 to $55.
RICHMOND, DAY & CO.

Lake Avenue Rink is centrally located, so large and has every convenience.

MISS BRETHERTON

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD,
AUTHOR OF "ROBERT ELSEMER."

CHAPTER I. CONTINUED.

"I haven't seen her at all," said Kendal, beginning, perhaps, to be a little bored with the subject of Miss Bretherton, and turning, eye glass in hand, toward the sculpture.

"Come and take some evening."

"By all means. But you must come and meet the girl herself at my sister's next Friday. She will be there at afternoon tea. I told Agnes I should see anybody I liked. I wanted her—you know her little weakness—that she had better be first in the field; a month hence it will be impossible to get hold of Miss Bretherton at all."

"Then I'll certainly come and do my worst," said Kendal, moving off. "Friday, then, I shall be very glad to see Mrs. Stuart; it's ages since I saw her last."

The American smiled cordially to him, and walked away. He was one of those pleasant ubiquitous people who know every one and find time for everything—a well known journalist, something of an artist, and still more of a man of the world, who went through his London season with some outward grumbling, but with a real inward satisfaction, such as few popular diners out are blessed with. That he should have attached himself to the latest star was not surprising. He was the most discreet and profitable of clerks, with a real talent for making friends, and he was not without a certain charm of his own. Miss Bretherton gave him a certain stamp in Kendal's eyes, for Wallace had a fastidious taste in personalities and seldom made a mistake.

Kendal himself walked home, busy with very different thoughts, and was soon established at his writing table in his study, overlooking an inner court of the Temple. It was a bright afternoon; the spring sunshine, the pictures were mostly cut, and the old chimney stacks, towering into the pale blue sky threw sharp shadows on the red and orange surface of the tiles. Below the court was half in shadow, and utterly quiet and deserted. To the left there was a gleam of green, showing for a spring thicket and scintillating by a vivid energy of color, while straight across the court, beyond the rich patchwork of the roofs and the picturesque outlines of the chimneys, a delicate piece of white stone work rose into air—the spire of one of the churches, as dainty as perfect, and as fastidiously balanced as the hand of man could make it.

Inside, the room was such as fitted a student's bachelor of music. The bookcases on the walls held old college classics and law books underneath, and above a miscellaneous literary library, of which the bulk consisted of French novels, and on whose shelves, French, while the side wings, so to speak, had that tempting miscellaneous air—here a patch of German, there a handful of Italian, on this side rows of English poets, on the other an abundance of novels of all languages—which delighted the fond heart of the book lover. In the center of the room were types and photographs from subjects of Italian art, except in occasional, where a fine collection of French novels, representing completely covered the wall and drew a visitor's attention by the brilliancy of their colors. On the writing table were piles of paper covered with notes, representing for the most part the palmy days of the Romantics, though every here and there were intervening strata of naturalism, balanced in their turn by recurrent volumes of Sainte-Beuve. The whole had a studious air. The books were carefully collected with purpose, and the piles of romances, lying on the writing table seemed to sum up and explain the surroundings.

The only personal ornament of the room was a group of photographs on the mantelpiece. Two were faded and brown, and represented Kendal's parents, both of whom had been dead years. The other was a large cabinet photograph of a woman no longer very young—a striking looking woman, with a fine form and a general air of distinction and character. There was a strong resemblance between her features and those of Miss Bretherton, and she was indeed his mother, and only sister, the wife of a French seaman, and her brother's chief friend and counselor.

Mme. de Chateaufort was a very notable person, and her influence over Kendal had been strong ever since their childhood days. She was a woman who would have justified an enthusiastic estimate of the women of the first Empire. She had that mélange of manner, form and intellect, the perfect elegance, and a store of varied information, with vivacity of impression and delicacy of feeling, which, as he declared to Miss Alabaster, "belongs only to your race, and is found in its perfection only in the best society of France."

In the days when she and Eustace had been the only children of a distinguished and wealthy father, a politician of some fame and considerable to the Tory premier of his young days, she had always led and influenced her brother. He followed her admiringly through her London seasons, watching the impression she made, triumphing in her triumphs, and at home discussing every new book with her and sharing, at least in his college vacations, the secretary's work for her father, which she did excellently, and with a quick, keen, political sense, and Eustace had never seen in any other woman. She was handsome in her own refined and delicate way, especially at night, when the sparkle of her white neck and arms, and the ideal brightness of her dress gave her a beauty and color she was somewhat lacking in at other times. Naturally, she was in no want of suitors, for she was rich and her father was influential, but she said "No" many times and was nearly 30 before M. de Chateaufort, the first secretary of the French embassy, persuaded her to marry him. Since then she had filled an effective place in Parisian society. Her husband had abandoned diplomacy for politics, in which his general tendencies were Oriental, while in literature he was well known as a constant contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes. He and his wife maintained an interesting and in its way influential salon, which provided a meeting ground for the best English and French society, and showed off at once the delicate quality of Mme. de Chateaufort's intelligence and the force and kindness of her womanly tact.

Arrived at Mrs. Stuart's, Kendal found a large gathering already filling the pleasant low rooms, looking out upon trees at either end, upon which Mrs. Stuart had impressed the impression of her own keen little personality. She was competent in all things—competent in her criticism of a book, and more than competent in all that pertained to the necessities of domestic management. Her own parties, of which each was built up from foundation to climax with the most delicate skill and unity of plan; her pretty dresses, in which she trailed about her soft colored rooms; her energy, her kindness, and even the subtlest and quite innocent pursuit of her own perfection in which she delighted—all made her popular, and it was not difficult for her to lead together whom she would, and she was indeed to launch a social novelty. On the present occasion she was very much in her element. All around her were people more or less distinguished in the London world; here was an editor, there an artist, a junior member of the government chatted over his tea with a politician, a student of the usual London chatter of a superior kind was rippling through the room when Kendal entered.

Mrs. Stuart put him in the way of a chair, and of abundant chances of conversation, and then left him with a shrug of her shoulders and a whisper, "The dear child is so late! Tell me what I shall do if all these people are disappointed!" In reality Mrs. Stuart was better than she seemed, and as the talk flowed faster and the room filled fuller of guests eager for the new sensation which had been promised them, the spirits of the little hostess began to rise. The minister had surreptitiously looked at his watch, and

MISS BRETHERTON

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD,
AUTHOR OF "ROBERT ELSEMER."

CHAPTER I. CONTINUED.

"I haven't seen her at all," said Kendal, beginning, perhaps, to be a little bored with the subject of Miss Bretherton, and turning, eye glass in hand, toward the sculpture.

"Come and take some evening."

"By all means. But you must come and meet the girl herself at my sister's next Friday. She will be there at afternoon tea. I told Agnes I should see anybody I liked. I wanted her—you know her little weakness—that she had better be first in the field; a month hence it will be impossible to get hold of Miss Bretherton at all."

"Then I'll certainly come and do my worst," said Kendal, moving off. "Friday, then, I shall be very glad to see Mrs. Stuart; it's ages since I saw her last."

The American smiled cordially to him, and walked away. He was one of those pleasant ubiquitous people who know every one and find time for everything—a well known journalist, something of an artist, and still more of a man of the world, who went through his London season with some outward grumbling, but with a real inward satisfaction, such as few popular diners out are blessed with. That he should have attached himself to the latest star was not surprising. He was the most discreet and profitable of clerks, with a real talent for making friends, and he was not without a certain charm of his own. Miss Bretherton gave him a certain stamp in Kendal's eyes, for Wallace had a fastidious taste in personalities and seldom made a mistake.

Kendal himself walked home, busy with very different thoughts, and was soon established at his writing table in his study, overlooking an inner court of the Temple. It was a bright afternoon; the spring sunshine, the pictures were mostly cut, and the old chimney stacks, towering into the pale blue sky threw sharp shadows on the red and orange surface of the tiles. Below the court was half in shadow, and utterly quiet and deserted. To the left there was a gleam of green, showing for a spring thicket and scintillating by a vivid energy of color, while straight across the court, beyond the rich patchwork of the roofs and the picturesque outlines of the chimneys, a delicate piece of white stone work rose into air—the spire of one of the churches, as dainty as perfect, and as fastidiously balanced as the hand of man could make it.

Inside, the room was such as fitted a student's bachelor of music. The bookcases on the walls held old college classics and law books underneath, and above a miscellaneous literary library, of which the bulk consisted of French novels, and on whose shelves, French, while the side wings, so to speak, had that tempting miscellaneous air—here a patch of German, there a handful of Italian, on this side rows of English poets, on the other an abundance of novels of all languages—which delighted the fond heart of the book lover. In the center of the room were types and photographs from subjects of Italian art, except in occasional, where a fine collection of French novels, representing completely covered the wall and drew a visitor's attention by the brilliancy of their colors. On the writing table were piles of paper covered with notes, representing for the most part the palmy days of the Romantics, though every here and there were intervening strata of naturalism, balanced in their turn by recurrent volumes of Sainte-Beuve. The whole had a studious air. The books were carefully collected with purpose, and the piles of romances, lying on the writing table seemed to sum up and explain the surroundings.

The only personal ornament of the room was a group of photographs on the mantelpiece. Two were faded and brown, and represented Kendal's parents, both of whom had been dead years. The other was a large cabinet photograph of a woman no longer very young—a striking looking woman, with a fine form and a general air of distinction and character. There was a strong resemblance between her features and those of Miss Bretherton, and she was indeed his mother, and only sister, the wife of a French seaman, and her brother's chief friend and counselor.

Mme. de Chateaufort was a very notable person, and her influence over Kendal had been strong ever since their childhood days. She was a woman who would have justified an enthusiastic estimate of the women of the first Empire. She had that mélange of manner, form and intellect, the perfect elegance, and a store of varied information, with vivacity of impression and delicacy of feeling, which, as he declared to Miss Alabaster, "belongs only to your race, and is found in its perfection only in the best society of France."

In the days when she and Eustace had been the only children of a distinguished and wealthy father, a politician of some fame and considerable to the Tory premier of his young days, she had always led and influenced her brother. He followed her admiringly through her London seasons, watching the impression she made, triumphing in her triumphs, and at home discussing every new book with her and sharing, at least in his college vacations, the secretary's work for her father, which she did excellently, and with a quick, keen, political sense, and Eustace had never seen in any other woman. She was handsome in her own refined and delicate way, especially at night, when the sparkle of her white neck and arms, and the ideal brightness of her dress gave her a beauty and color she was somewhat lacking in at other times. Naturally, she was in no want of suitors, for she was rich and her father was influential, but she said "No" many times and was nearly 30 before M. de Chateaufort, the first secretary of the French embassy, persuaded her to marry him. Since then she had filled an effective place in Parisian society. Her husband had abandoned diplomacy for politics, in which his general tendencies were Oriental, while in literature he was well known as a constant contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes. He and his wife maintained an interesting and in its way influential salon, which provided a meeting ground for the best English and French society, and showed off at once the delicate quality of Mme. de Chateaufort's intelligence and the force and kindness of her womanly tact.

Arrived at Mrs. Stuart's, Kendal found a large gathering already filling the pleasant low rooms, looking out upon trees at either end, upon which Mrs. Stuart had impressed the impression of her own keen little personality. She was competent in all things—competent in her criticism of a book, and more than competent in all that pertained to the necessities of domestic management. Her own parties, of which each was built up from foundation to climax with the most delicate skill and unity of plan; her pretty dresses, in which she trailed about her soft colored rooms; her energy, her kindness, and even the subtlest and quite innocent pursuit of her own perfection in which she delighted—all made her popular, and it was not difficult for her to lead together whom she would, and she was indeed to launch a social novelty. On the present occasion she was very much in her element. All around her were people more or less distinguished in the London world; here was an editor, there an artist, a junior member of the government chatted over his tea with a politician, a student of the usual London chatter of a superior kind was rippling through the room when Kendal entered.

Mrs. Stuart put him in the way of a chair, and of abundant chances of conversation, and then left him with a shrug of her shoulders and a whisper, "The dear child is so late! Tell me what I shall do if all these people are disappointed!" In reality Mrs. Stuart was better than she seemed, and as the talk flowed faster and the room filled fuller of guests eager for the new sensation which had been promised them, the spirits of the little hostess began to rise. The minister had surreptitiously looked at his watch, and

MISS BRETHERTON

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD,
AUTHOR OF "ROBERT ELSEMER."

CHAPTER I. CONTINUED.

"I haven't seen her at all," said Kendal, beginning, perhaps, to be a little bored with the subject of Miss Bretherton, and turning, eye glass in hand, toward the sculpture.

"Come and take some evening."

"By all means. But you must come and meet the girl herself at my sister's next Friday. She will be there at afternoon tea. I told Agnes I should see anybody I liked. I wanted her—you know her little weakness—that she had better be first in the field; a month hence it will be impossible to get hold of Miss Bretherton at all."

"Then I'll certainly come and do my worst," said Kendal, moving off. "Friday, then, I shall be very glad to see Mrs. Stuart; it's ages since I saw her last."

The American smiled cordially to him, and walked away. He was one of those pleasant ubiquitous people who know every one and find time for everything—a well known journalist, something of an artist, and still more of a man of the world, who went through his London season with some outward grumbling, but with a real inward satisfaction, such as few popular diners out are blessed with. That he should have attached himself to the latest star was not surprising. He was the most discreet and profitable of clerks, with a real talent for making friends, and he was not without a certain charm of his own. Miss Bretherton gave him a certain stamp in Kendal's eyes, for Wallace had a fastidious taste in personalities and seldom made a mistake.

Kendal himself walked home, busy with very different thoughts, and was soon established at his writing table in his study, overlooking an inner court of the Temple. It was a bright afternoon; the spring sunshine, the pictures were mostly cut, and the old chimney stacks, towering into the pale blue sky threw sharp shadows on the red and orange surface of the tiles. Below the court was half in shadow, and utterly quiet and deserted. To the left there was a gleam of green, showing for a spring thicket and scintillating by a vivid energy of color, while straight across the court, beyond the rich patchwork of the roofs and the picturesque outlines of the chimneys, a delicate piece of white stone work rose into air—the spire of one of the churches, as dainty as perfect, and as fastidiously balanced as the hand of man could make it.

Inside, the room was such as fitted a student's bachelor of music. The bookcases on the walls held old college classics and law books underneath, and above a miscellaneous literary library, of which the bulk consisted of French novels, and on whose shelves, French, while the side wings, so to speak, had that tempting miscellaneous air—here a patch of German, there a handful of Italian, on this side rows of English poets, on the other an abundance of novels of all languages—which delighted the fond heart of the book lover. In the center of the room were types and photographs from subjects of Italian art, except in occasional, where a fine collection of French novels, representing completely covered the wall and drew a visitor's attention by the brilliancy of their colors. On the writing table were piles of paper covered with notes, representing for the most part the palmy days of the Romantics, though every here and there were intervening strata of naturalism, balanced in their turn by recurrent volumes of Sainte-Beuve. The whole had a studious air. The books were carefully collected with purpose, and the piles of romances, lying on the writing table seemed to sum up and explain the surroundings.

The only personal ornament of the room was a group of photographs on the mantelpiece. Two were faded and brown, and represented Kendal's parents, both of whom had been dead years. The other was a large cabinet photograph of a woman no longer very young—a striking looking woman, with a fine form and a general air of distinction and character. There was a strong resemblance between her features and those of Miss Bretherton, and she was indeed his mother, and only sister, the wife of a French seaman, and her brother's chief friend and counselor.

Mme. de Chateaufort was a very notable person, and her influence over Kendal had been strong ever since their childhood days. She was a woman who would have justified an enthusiastic estimate of the women of the first Empire. She had that mélange of manner, form and intellect, the perfect elegance, and a store of varied information, with vivacity of impression and delicacy of feeling, which, as he declared to Miss Alabaster, "belongs only to your race, and is found in its perfection only in the best society of France."

In the days when she and Eustace had been the only children of a distinguished and wealthy father, a politician of some fame and considerable to the Tory premier of his young days, she had always led and influenced her brother. He followed her admiringly through her London seasons, watching the impression she made, triumphing in her triumphs, and at home discussing every new book with her and sharing, at least in his college vacations, the secretary's work for her father, which she did excellently, and with a quick, keen, political sense, and Eustace had never seen in any other woman. She was handsome in her own refined and delicate way, especially at night, when the sparkle of her white neck and arms, and the ideal brightness of her dress gave her a beauty and color she was somewhat lacking in at other times. Naturally, she was in no want of suitors, for she was rich and her father was influential, but she said "No" many times and was nearly 30 before M. de Chateaufort, the first secretary of the French embassy, persuaded her to marry him. Since then she had filled an effective place in Parisian society. Her husband had abandoned diplomacy for politics, in which his general tendencies were Oriental, while in literature he was well known as a constant contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes. He and his wife maintained an interesting and in its way influential salon, which provided a meeting ground for the best English and French society, and showed off at once the delicate quality of Mme. de Chateaufort's intelligence and the force and kindness of her womanly tact.

Arrived at Mrs. Stuart's, Kendal found a large gathering already filling the pleasant low rooms, looking out upon trees at either end, upon which Mrs. Stuart had impressed the impression of her own keen little personality. She was competent in all things—competent in her criticism of a book, and more than competent in all that pertained to the necessities of domestic management. Her own parties, of which each was built up from foundation to climax with the most delicate skill and unity of plan; her pretty dresses, in which she trailed about her soft colored rooms; her energy, her kindness, and even the subtlest and quite innocent pursuit of her own perfection in which she delighted—all made her popular, and it was not difficult for her to lead together whom she would, and she was indeed to launch a social novelty. On the present occasion she was very much in her element. All around her were people more or less distinguished in the London world; here was an editor, there an artist, a junior member of the government chatted over his tea with a politician, a student of the usual London chatter of a superior kind was rippling through the room when Kendal entered.

Mrs. Stuart put him in the way of a chair, and of abundant chances of conversation, and then left him with a shrug of her shoulders and a whisper, "The dear child is so late! Tell me what I shall do if all these people are disappointed!" In reality Mrs. Stuart was better than she seemed, and as the talk flowed faster and the room filled fuller of guests eager for the new sensation which had been promised them, the spirits of the little hostess began to rise. The minister had surreptitiously looked at his watch, and

MISS BRETHERTON

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD,
AUTHOR OF "ROBERT ELSEMER."

CHAPTER I. CONTINUED.

"I haven't seen her at all," said Kendal, beginning, perhaps, to be a little bored with the subject of Miss Bretherton, and turning, eye glass in hand, toward the sculpture.

"Come and take some evening."

"By all means. But you must come and meet the girl herself at my sister's next Friday. She will be there at afternoon tea. I told Agnes I should see anybody I liked. I wanted her—you know her little weakness—that she had better be first in the field; a month hence it will be impossible to get hold of Miss Bretherton at all."

"Then I'll certainly come and do my worst," said Kendal, moving off. "Friday, then, I shall be very glad to see Mrs. Stuart; it's ages since I saw her last."

The American smiled cordially to him, and walked away. He was one of those pleasant ubiquitous people who know every one and find time for everything—a well known journalist, something of an artist, and still more of a man of the world, who went through his London season with some outward grumbling, but with a real inward satisfaction, such as few popular diners out are blessed with. That he should have attached himself to the latest star was not surprising. He was the most discreet and profitable of clerks, with a real talent for making friends, and he was not without a certain charm of his own. Miss Bretherton gave him a certain stamp in Kendal's eyes, for Wallace had a fastidious taste in personalities and seldom made a mistake.

Kendal himself walked home, busy with very different thoughts, and was soon established at his writing table in his study, overlooking an inner court of the Temple. It was a bright afternoon; the spring sunshine, the pictures were mostly cut, and the old chimney stacks, towering into the pale blue sky threw sharp shadows on the red and orange surface of the tiles. Below the court was half in shadow, and utterly quiet and deserted. To the left there was a gleam of green, showing for a spring thicket and scintillating by a vivid energy of color, while straight across the court, beyond the rich patchwork of the roofs and the picturesque outlines of the chimneys, a delicate piece of white stone work rose into air—the spire of one of the churches, as dainty as perfect, and as fastidiously balanced as the hand of man could make it.

Inside, the room was such as fitted a student's bachelor of music. The bookcases on the walls held old college classics and law books underneath, and above a miscellaneous literary library, of which the bulk consisted of French novels, and on whose shelves, French, while the side wings, so to speak, had that tempting miscellaneous air—here a patch of German, there a handful of Italian, on this side rows of English poets, on the other an abundance of novels of all languages—which delighted the fond heart of the book lover. In the center of the room were types and photographs from subjects of Italian art, except in occasional, where a fine collection of French novels, representing completely covered the wall and drew a visitor's attention by the brilliancy of their colors. On the writing table were piles of paper covered with notes, representing for the most part the palmy days of the Romantics, though every here and there were intervening strata of naturalism, balanced in their turn by recurrent volumes of Sainte-Beuve. The whole had a studious air. The books were carefully collected with purpose, and the piles of romances, lying on the writing table seemed to sum up and explain the surroundings.

The only personal ornament of the room was a group of photographs on the mantelpiece. Two were faded and brown, and represented Kendal's parents, both of whom had been dead years. The other was a large cabinet photograph of a woman no longer very young—a striking looking woman, with a fine form and a general air of distinction and character. There was a strong resemblance between her features and those of Miss Bretherton, and she was indeed his mother, and only sister, the wife of a French seaman, and her brother's chief friend and counselor.

Mme. de Chateaufort was a very notable person, and her influence over Kendal had been strong ever since their childhood days. She was a woman who would have justified an enthusiastic estimate of the women of the first Empire. She had that mélange of manner, form and intellect, the perfect elegance, and a store of varied information, with vivacity of impression and delicacy of feeling, which, as he declared to Miss Alabaster, "belongs only to your race, and is found in its perfection only in the best society of France."

In the days when she and Eustace had been the only children of a distinguished and wealthy father, a politician of some fame and considerable to the Tory premier of his young days, she had always led and influenced her brother. He followed her admiringly through her London seasons, watching the impression she made, triumphing in her triumphs, and at home discussing every new book with her and sharing, at least in his college vacations, the secretary's work for her father, which she did excellently, and with a quick, keen, political sense, and Eustace had never seen in any other woman. She was handsome in her own refined and delicate way, especially at night, when the sparkle of her white neck and arms, and the ideal brightness of her dress gave her a beauty and color she was somewhat lacking in at other times. Naturally, she was in no want of suitors, for she was rich and her father was influential, but she said "No" many times and was nearly 30 before M. de Chateaufort, the first secretary of the French embassy, persuaded her to marry him. Since then she had filled an effective place in Parisian society. Her husband had abandoned diplomacy for politics, in which his general tendencies were Oriental, while in literature he was well known as a constant contributor to the Revue des Deux Mondes. He and his wife maintained an interesting and in its way influential salon, which provided a meeting ground for the best English and French society, and showed off at once the delicate quality of Mme. de Chateaufort's intelligence and the force and kindness of her womanly tact.

Arrived at Mrs. Stuart's, Kendal found a large gathering already filling the pleasant low rooms, looking out upon trees at either end, upon which Mrs. Stuart had impressed the impression of her own keen little personality. She was competent in all things—competent in her criticism of a book, and more than competent in all that pertained to the necessities of domestic management. Her own parties, of which each was built up from foundation to climax with the most delicate skill and unity of plan; her pretty dresses, in which she trailed about her soft colored rooms; her energy, her kindness, and even the subtlest and quite innocent pursuit of her own perfection in which she delighted—all made her popular, and it was not difficult for her to lead together whom she would, and she was indeed to launch a social novelty. On the present occasion she was very much in her element. All around her were people more or less distinguished in the London world; here was an editor, there an artist, a junior member of the government chatted over his tea with a politician, a student of the usual London chatter of a superior kind was rippling through the room when Kendal entered.

Mrs. Stuart put him in the way of a chair, and of abundant chances of conversation, and then left him with a shrug of her shoulders and a whisper, "The dear child is so late! Tell me what I shall do if all these people are disappointed!" In reality Mrs. Stuart was better than she seemed, and as the talk flowed faster and the room filled fuller of guests eager for the new sensation which had been promised them, the spirits of the little hostess began to rise. The minister had surreptitiously looked at his watch, and

MISS BRETHERTON

By MRS. HUMPHREY WARD,
AUTHOR OF "ROBERT ELSEMER."

CHAPTER I. CONTINUED.

"I haven't seen her at all," said Kendal, beginning, perhaps, to be a little bored with the subject of Miss Bretherton, and turning, eye glass in hand, toward the sculpture.

"Come and take some evening."

"By all means. But you must come and meet the girl herself at my sister's next Friday. She will be there at afternoon tea. I told Agnes I should see anybody I liked. I wanted her—you know her little weakness—that she had better be first in the field; a month hence it will be impossible to get hold of Miss Bretherton at all."

"Then I'll certainly come and do my worst," said Kendal, moving off. "Friday, then, I shall be very glad to see Mrs. Stuart; it's ages since I saw her last."

The American smiled cordially to him, and walked away. He was one of those pleasant ubiquitous people who know every one and find time for everything—a well known journalist, something of an artist, and still more of a man of the world, who went through his London season with some outward grumbling, but with a real inward satisfaction, such as few popular diners out are blessed with. That he should have attached himself to the latest star was not surprising. He was the most discreet and profitable of clerks, with a real talent for making friends, and he was not without a certain charm of his own. Miss Bretherton gave him a certain stamp in Kendal's eyes, for Wallace had a fastidious taste in personalities and seldom made a mistake.

Kendal himself walked home, busy with very different thoughts, and was soon established at his writing table in his study, overlooking an inner court of the Temple. It was a bright afternoon; the spring sunshine, the pictures were mostly cut, and the old chimney stacks, towering into the pale blue sky threw sharp shadows on the red and orange surface of the tiles. Below the court was half in shadow, and utterly quiet and deserted. To the left there was a gleam of green, showing for a spring thicket and scintillating by a vivid energy of color, while straight across the court, beyond the rich patchwork of the roofs and the picturesque outlines of the chimneys, a delicate piece of white stone work rose into air—the spire of one of the churches, as dainty as perfect, and as fastidiously balanced as the hand of man could make it.

Inside, the room was such as fitted a student's bachelor of music. The bookcases on the walls held old college classics and law books underneath, and above a miscellaneous literary library, of which the bulk consisted of French novels, and on whose shelves, French, while the side wings, so to speak, had that tempting miscellaneous air—here a patch of German, there a handful of Italian, on this side rows of

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Peck & Son started up their planing mill this morning for a short run.

Nineteen real estate transfers were filed this forenoon for a total of $29,375.

The transfer of wheat of the Chicago syndicate to the elevator leased by it has been completed.

St. Paul & Duluth officials state that the new freight warehouse and headquarters will be built the coming spring.

Burglars broke open the safe of Ole Burg's grocery at the West End last night but secured nothing, being scared away.

John Grube's funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of C. E. Budden West Third street.

Remember the lecture at the Bethel to-night by Major J. B. Quinn on "Random Rambler" illustrated by stereopticon views.

A large force of men is at work on the ore docks, and operations are being vigorously pushed ahead under the supervision of Shepard Sims & Co.

Of the $7,036 said to have been taken by ex-convicts from the Courthouse of Douglas county, $3,000 has been accounted for leaving him still about $4,000 in the hole.

Chris Larson, whose death was reported yesterday, was carried up to see if his death could be laid to any suspicious cause. No such was found and no inquest was held.

The snow fall today has been about four inches. As yet no delay has been caused by the snow to trains or traffic but another day of the snow with a blow would temporarily block up the roads.

The annual meeting of the First Congregational society will be held at the church parlors tonight. There will be supper, and social from 6 to 8 to which all are invited, and after which the business meeting will be held.

Capt and Mrs. I. M. Pelton celebrated the 45th anniversary of their wedding last night. A large number of friends were present and a most enjoyable evening was passed by both hosts and guests. The couple received a number of gifts.

The upper floor of a fine Superior first building owned by a lot of good churches is occupied and has been for some time, by as low a lot of prostitutes as ever congregated on St. Croix avenue. Would it not be well for the police to look the matter up?

Scott & Holston have inaugurated the division of profits to every employee a check for from $20 to $50. It is to be hoped that the Duluth firms will find that this division of profits is one of the best ways to harmonize capital and labor.

Minimum temperature this morning was 22 degrees above zero. A heavy snow fall began about 4 o'clock a. m., and has been in progress ever since. Sighting is now insignificant and the reign of the rattling wheels is probably over for this winter.

Lumbermen are now getting out their sprinklers and are making for roads. The past few days has rendered this work impossible. Ice roads are fully as good, though perhaps at first more expensive than snow roads, but to keep them in repair cold weather is needed. Judging from today's snow fall, however, ice will not be needed.

All day the tilters at the board of trade have been sitting at their desk taking in the annual election. As the HERALD goes to press the polls are closing. Indications are that the regular ticket published in this paper yesterday and headed by A. D. Thompson for president, is selected. The opposition ticket is similar to the regular except to the name of chief officer, where Geo. Spencer is substituted.

But slow progress is being made at the elevated road, right of way and track crossing difficulties still bothering the contractors. The commissioners in condemnation are sitting almost daily, and will soon make a report regarding the property wanted by the Eastern road. As soon as this is done the rock work contracts will be let and work pushed on them.

At the Imperial workmen are busy on the interior, putting down the floors, painting etc., and the work is nearly completed. Machinery enough will be put into the first quarter of the mill to grind 2,000 barrels of flour daily. Approximate flour miller and mill, furnished who looked over the mill as far as completed the other day said that it was the finest mill judging from amount of work done in the country and that in point of completeness and fitness for making flour economically it would exceed any now built.

Lots and blocks in Third division, bargains. C. E. LOVETT & CO.

Fine shoes at cost and good rubbers cheap at Pike & Barkey's.

For enjoyment, attend Lake Avenue Skating Rink.

For Sale, Five heavy horses. DULUTH STREET RAILWAY CO.

We have a very large selection of opera glasses, silver match safes, book marks, silver mounted black brooms, antique soap boxes, silk umbrellas, gold headed canes, silver chocolate sets, tea sets, luncheon sets, nut sets, hand mirrors, etc., etc., the latest styles just received from New York for our holiday trade. Call and see them. MONTAGUE & CO., 319 West Superior street, opposite St. Louis hotel.

Money can be made by buying lots in Second division of C. E. LOVETT & CO.

A handsome complexion is one of the greatest charms a woman can possess. Potoson's complexion powder gives it.

Attend Lake Avenue Skating Rink.

Notice. The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Republican club of Duluth will convene at the Municipal court room at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, January 14th, 1889. A full attendance is particularly requested, as steps will be taken looking to the permanent reorganization of the club, which will necessitate the election of new officers. PAUL MORRIS, President.

Money loaned at a reasonable rate, and in amounts to suit borrowers. MENDENHALL & HOOPER.

Chas. T. Abbott, real estate office West Duluth.

Myers & Whipple.

Try The

MAGNOLIA : CIGAR.

—AT—

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

MUST WE EAT MEAT?

MAN SHOULD NOT LIVE BY VEGETABLES ALONE.

So Says a Physician of Experience—A Meat Diet Considered Best for Nervous Persons—Eating Too Little—The Vegetarian Life.

"I am disposed to exclude vegetables," said a physician of experience, "with the exception of cereals and fruit, from the diet of nervous persons. Why? First, because animal food is more nutritious to the nervous system than the body generally than vegetable. It has all the essential elements for the formation of the tissues of the body and is easily digested. It appears to be the natural food of human beings. It seems possible for man to exist on it alone in any climate and continue in a normal condition of health. The first food taken by man—milk—is strictly an animal substance. It contains all the elements necessary to the growth of the body and to its maintenance in a state of health. This cannot be said of any one article of vegetable food. Then, the nervous system consists largely of fat. This substance must be supplied in some form or other in order that the brain and other nerve structures shall be properly nourished. If a person uses up his brain faster than he makes it he soon becomes nervous and irritable. If he does not assimilate enough food to supply its demands his mind is sure to become weak.

The healthiest and strongest individuals, even, should eat a far greater proportion of meat than of vegetable food. Beef should be taken as the standard meat. It answers every purpose of the system. Veal and pork are not as easily digested. Pork, so far as its composition goes, is an excellent food for nervous persons, but it is not readily digested. Yet in the army we used to think nothing better for the wounded men than bacon. As a rule salt meat is not adapted to the requirements of the nervous individual, as nutritious juices to a great extent go into the brine.

FLESH OF WILD BIRDS.

"The flesh of wild birds is more tender and more readily digested than that of domestic ones. This is accounted for by the greater amount of exercise they take, thereby renewing their flesh more rapidly and making it younger than that of birds which live a more quiet life. This is a suggestion that might be of benefit to women of sedentary habits who are desirous of prolonging an appearance of youth. Fish of all kinds is good food for the nervously inclined. Raw eggs, contrary to general opinion, are not as digestible as those that have been cooked.

A notion has been prevalent that many persons injure their digestion by eating too much. The fact is that most people in this land of abundant food, don't eat enough. There are more people killed every year by insufficiency of nourishment than by overloading their stomachs. Many of these who do not eat a sufficient quantity are prevented by some disease from digesting enough for the economy of their systems. The very first thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR NERVOUS INDIVIDUALS.

"Nervous individuals may derive all the fat they need from sugar and starch. It is better, however, for those with weak digestive organs, or whose nerves are in a slightly sensitive state, to get it from the animal kingdom than to compel their enfeebled stomachs, intestines and pancreas to create it out of these articles. Good bread, sweet butter and meat are the best foods for the nerves. People troubled with insomnia, nervous starting from sleep and sensations of falling are often cured by limiting themselves to a diet of milk alone for a time. An adult should take a pint for a meal and take four meals daily. People with weak nerves require usually a larger quantity of water than those whose brains and nerves are strong. It aids in the digestion of food by making it soluble and seems to have a direct tonic effect. Hot water is relaxing to the stomach.

"With proper eating and drinking we should have fewer broken down, nervous wrecks and far more vigorous intellects. The present human species cannot eliminate flesh from its food and amount to a row of pins. The fancy that nothing vegetable should be eaten is apt to overlook every one somewhat in life. It induces some disorganization, and usually passes away with the disturbance that created it. This fancy is more apt to assail the young than the middle aged, and females more frequently than males. A nervous, sickly girl of nineteen was put under my care about nine months ago. I found she had imbibed the vegetarian notion and practiced it about a year. I limited her diet to so much meat per meal and a small quantity of fruit and bread, with a pint of milk. She doesn't look like the same girl now. All that absurd belief in a strict vegetable diet has left her with her growth of strength and nerve forever."—Chicago Herald.

Electro-Magnet in Plano.

Dr. Eisenmann is Berlin (doctor juris, not musicus) has invented a piano which, by the help of electro-magnetism, accomplishes that which has so long been sought for—the sustaining power of the sound, says The London World.

Another and still more extraordinary application of the system is that, by moving the bar with the electro-magnets to another place, the timbre of the tone changes to that of another instrument.

It is well known that the "over tones" produced by the vibrations result in "beats" (acousticians understand me) which alone cause the different tone colors or timbres, so that you may by this means play violinello or piccolo on the piano.

One of the great men of the first years of this century, the founder of musical acoustics—Dr. Chladni (doctor juris, too)—had already made an attempt to reach the same end of crescendo and decrescendo by other, but not effective means—a glass cylinder, so has Boehm, the inventor of the metal flute, tried during thirty years to accomplish this purpose.

At last electricity has done it, a stream of electric is set in movement by a new pedal. The invention is so grand that notwithstanding a minute description I will not say more of it until I have seen it.

It is what it is announced to be it will cause quite a revolution both in playing and composing for the pianoforte.

A Natural Compass.

We all know how easy it is to lose one's way in a dense fog or a blinding snow storm. And yet, during the day time, the right direction may readily be ascertained by a very simple means of finding the position of the sun. All that is required is to place the point of a knife blade, or of a sharp lead pencil, on the thumb nail, when a shadow will be cast directly from the sun, however dense may be the fog or snow.—Cassell's Family Magazine.

The finest Line of Optical goods in the city at

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

ONE CENT A WORD COLUMN.

HELP WANTED.

Female.

WANTED—A GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework. 132 East Third street.

WANTED—GOOD GIRL FOR GENERAL housework, small family. 280 Lake avenue north.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEWORK. 119 Third avenue east.

Male.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED DRY GOODS salesman at the Metropolitan dry goods store.

PRINTING WANTED—MUST BE A GOOD job compositor. This office.

PERSONAL.

PERSONAL—WANTED YOUNG AMERICAN lady to rent. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT.

HOUSES.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED HOUSE OF eight rooms, centrally located. Will lease for six months, house and furniture including piano. Address P. this office.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve power of the individual the food lies in the stomach unacted upon by the gastric juice because there is none. The quantity is insufficient to have any power. Food, instead of helping to renew the body and the nervous system with its rest, undergoes fermentation, and the body and brain it should nourish may starve. The person is in a worse state than if the food had not been taken, for the fermentation generates acids and gas.

FOR RENT—A HOUSE TO RENT. One new house seven rooms, gas and water, at low rental. thing for any one to do with his first breakfast is to eat a good meal. If he has been born weak and irritable is to furnish his brain with sufficient nourishment to either repair the damage it has sustained or to build it up into a strong, healthy condition. People in this condition usually suffer from nervous depression. Their stomachs are unable to perform the labor of assimilation. Owing to the deficient nerve

READ THE NEW SERIAL
"MISS BRETHERTON."
By Author of ROBERT ELSMERE.
A Portion Appears Daily in the HERALD.

VOL 6: NO. 231

DULUTH EVENING HERALD.

DULUTH, MINN., THURSDAY JANUARY 17, 1899-FOUR O'CLOCK

MRS. WARD'S NEW STORY
"MISS BRETHERTON,"
Equal to Her ROBERT ELSMERE.
Read it. A New Serial in the HERALD.

PRICE TWO CENTS

BANKRUPT SALE.

Of Clothing and Hats, Stock of F.
I. Breeze, being sold at prices that never were Duplicated. Some Choice Hats for very little money.

4 E. SUPERIOR ST.

Next to Corner of Lake ave.

NOTICE.

As the partnership of M. S. Burrows & Co.,
expiries by limitation on February 25, 1899,
all accounts must be settled by February 1, that the business may be satisfactorily wound up. Our collectors will call on you. All accounts unpaid after this date will be placed with our attorney for collection. We mean what we say and take notice accordingly.

M. S. BURROWS & CO.

FURS. FURS. FURS.

"As the Days Lengthen,
The Cold Strengthens."

Dress in Keeping With the Climate!

IMPORTED FURS!

Persian Lamb, Black Martin, Black Astrakhan, Grey Frenchie of the very finest.
You are invited to call and see for yourself.

LADIES' MUFFS.

Constantly in stock from Otter, Beaver, Mink, Badger, Lynx or any kind desired.

SEALSKIN CAPS.

For both ladies and gentlemen in stock and made to order in the latest styles, and satisfaction guaranteed.

SLEIGH ROBES.

Of all the finest patterns are kept in stock. Remember everything is manufactured by me on the premises, and a specialty is made of cleaning, dyeing and repairing RESPECTFULLY YOURS,

R. KROJANKER, 209 E. Sup. st.

A. L. KINGMAN.

REAL ESTATE.

207 National Bank Bldg.

Residence Lots that lie beautifully only $125.00.
Bargain in Acres,
Bargains in Business Property.
Bargains in Improved Property.
If you want a bargain call. If you have anything to sell cheap don't fail to see me.

WILL THEY HANG HER?

The Ohio Board of Pardons and the Governor Have a Knotty Problem to Solve.

The Woman who Murdered her Own Children and the History of Her Crime.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 17.—Whether Governor Foraker will be called upon to sign the death warrant of a woman and whether Mrs. Garrett is doomed to a hangman's rope or to a life imprisonment will in all probability be decided by the state board of pardons at its meeting today. Mrs. Garrett is the woman who on the night of Nov.
1, 1887, in her luxuriously furnished farm house at Spencer, near Cleveland, shot out the brains of her two embezzled daughters with a club, and then fired the dwelling.
Fortunately for the friends of justice, the neighbors extinguished the flames and then the two bodies, frightfully burned, were found in a back room. On September 17th she was convicted and sentenced to be hung a week from today. In the meantime a child had been born to her and she still nurses the babe to all. Her husband, although a man of considerable means has never visited her since her conviction, having turned against her from the night of the crime. Great pressure has been brought upon the members of the board to commute the sentence to a life imprisonment and it is said that, notwithstanding her strict ideas of justice, Governor Foraker is very much averse to allowing the sentence to be carried into effect. The condemned woman since her incarceration for her crime has been given the full run of the annex and spends the bulk of her time in the room in which the gallows may be erected. She is a woman of the build and appearance and with a great amount of self confidence.
From the time of her conviction she has steadfastly asserted that she would never reach the gallows and even now she expresses herself as certain that she will be allowed to leave the prison with a free pardon.

DREXEL'S DAUGHTER.

She and Her Millions are Married to a Poor But Very Young Society Man.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—Louis Drexel, who possesses a fortune in his own right of $200,000, and in addition receives with her two sisters one of the largest fortunes in the city, has been requested by the millionaire daughter to marry her. She is a daughter of the late F. A. Drexel, the banker of this city and a ward of Geo. W.
Childs. The latter has been asked to leave the fortune of four millions to the three daughters. A provision in the will was that the estate should be divided into three equal shares and share alike.
If there be more children than one, and the survivor of the three children should be no more, if there should be no issue, on the death of the three daughters, the entire estate goes to catholic charities to which a million and a half dollars were given independent of the will. The happy groom G. J. Morrell, is a lawyer with very little money, but with an abundance of good looks and blue blood. His uncle was once mayor of Newport and his mother a leader of fashion.
The wedding was celebrated at the Cathedral and although it has set society ago for months, less than 100 invitations were issued and these to the immediate friends of the two families. Archbishop Ryan officiated and the ceremony was the celebrant at the nuptial mass.

Ben Franklin Remembered.

New York, Jan. 17.—This is the 133rd anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, and it will be celebrated by the Tyrpethet society with an elaborate banquet at the Brunswick hotel tonight.
Among those who will participate are General Thomas Ewing, Henry Carey, Baird, Mark Twain, Col. Elliot F. Shepard, Mayor
Grant, William B. Ewing and W. B. Ewing.
At the head of the table there will be a Benjamin Franklin press, made before letters were invented. During the dinner, which is in operation in order that those present may be able to judge of the crude way in which printing was done a century and a half ago.

The Clover Clubs Dinner.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—That noted event of the year, the annual dinner of the Clover Club, takes place tonight and the special train with guests from Washington came in at noon. Among them were Senators Manderson, Blackburn, Plumb and Harvey and Representatives Boutwell, Breckenridge, Mason, Cannon and Burrows. Were it not for the fact that the Partner club of Pennsylvania has its great dinner also tonight Senator Cameron and Huller would also have been among the guests.

Vermonters in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The Sons of Vermont and the alumni of Dartmouth college have taken possession of the rotunda and corridor of the Grand Pacific today, which has been set apart for their annual gathering. At the banquet tonight the speakers will include Prof. Blodgett, of Beloit, Wis., college and Geo. E. Gates, of Iowa college.

Marriage of a Divine and a Divine's Daughter.

New York, Jan. 17.—The nuptials of Agnes Crosby daughter of Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby, and (Rev. Huntington Allen, of Troy, were celebrated today in the church of the bride's father, with Dr. Croby officiating. There was a large and fashionable attendance.

Honoring Old Ben.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The printers of this city will observe Sen. Franklin's birthday today by a banquet at the Fremont house, at which speeches will be delivered by several prominent divines, printers and members of allied industries.

A Dramatic Event.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 17.—The debut of a dramatic star of Walter S. Maheux, who or a year past has been studying under manager John W. Norton, takes place at Macaulay's tonight in Richard III. A good deal of interest in the event is manifested in theatrical circles.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Indications for twenty-four hours: Minnesota and Dakota fair, colder northwesterly winds.

List your improved property with
C. E. Lovett & Co.

Fine shoes at cost and good rubbers cheap at Pike & Barkey's.

We Have Buyers.

If you have anything to sell cheap in First, Second or Third Avenue, let it with C. E. Lovett & Co.
29 Board of Trade.

GRAVES APPOINTMENTS.

The Speaker of the House Names the Chairman of His Committees.
St. Paul, Jan. 17. (Special)—Speaker
Graves, on the opening of the state legisture this morning announced, to the house the committee chairmen. The chairmen are as follows: Appropriations, Hemp; ways and means, Morgan; judiciary, H. F. Stevens; railroads, Severance; public account and expenditures, Meland; public lands, Crossfield;
education, Lighty; towns and counties, Jacobson; military affairs, Putnam; incorporations, Young; state prison, Hoppins; claims, McNally; grain and warehouse, Brush; neurology, normal school, Perrin;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital
for delinquents, Wilson; reform schools,
Elnquist; banks, Comstock; printing,
Dunn; roads and bridges, Davis; elections,
Savage; commerce, Halgren; public build-
ing, Fathburn; rules, Benson; state library,
Davenport; mines, Holmstrom; engraving,
C. H. Davis; enrollment, Shoemaker;
forestry, Zivan; legislative expenses, C. H.
Davis; soldiers' home, Underwood; loss
and labor legislation, Sumner; hospital

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

Real estate transfers of yesterday were six, consideration, $12,543.

Car receipts of wheat this morning were seventeen, about 8,000 bushels.

It was a great day for blacksmiths and the shoeing shops have been crowded all day.

Bills to turn over to the United States the site of the proposed public building are now before Minnesota houses.

Commissioners in condemnation proceedings of the Eastern road are in session today and every day. They will soon make a report.

After adjournment of the board of trade this noon President-Elect Thomson made an interesting time for his friends for a few moments.

A call will soon be published by the Republican city committee for a caucus to put a straight ticket in the field at the coming election.

W. H. Daniels was up this morning before the municipal court, charged with selling goods without a license. He was tried this afternoon.

Business at the United States local land office has been very dull the past few weeks but will probably be livened up again with the approach of spring.

The cold wave came according to program and sent the mercury down to 10 degrees below zero at 8 o'clock this forenoon. Today has been pleasant but cold.

There was not a drink before Judge Jacques this morning, the only one who was arrested last night, Anton Christian, a 62 taken with epileptic fits in jail this noon.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Duluth, St. Cloud, Mankato & Anckerly road, to elect officers, held in St. Cloud Tuesday, was adjourned to the Merchant hotel, St. Paul, tomorrow.

It is reported that a suitable five company headquarters for the new business would be four for sets into the best quality of wood for paper making, etc. It is said to be a most desirable business.

A Minneapolis man wants to open a third theatre here, on the plan of the Pence or Peoples of the Twin cities. Just how much of a field there is for a third theatre remains to be seen, but probably not much.

The advertisement put in yesterday and there is not the slightest interest taken by the general public in the forthcoming municipal elections. In the two days of registration yet to come it is probable that but few votes will be registered.

At the annual session of the Sewing Building and Loan association held last night officers were elected as follows: M. O. Hall, president; N. H. Hall, vice president; O. Stinson, secretary; F. G. Gabrielson, treasurer, and Charles A. Johnson, director to fill vacancy.

The News this morning editorially describes a new pavement and believes it would be a good thing for Duluth to try. It is the Telford which is already laid on Third street, and is constructed for First street. The News should keep posted on its own home.

A sale of forty acres of outside land adjoining that owned by the Lakeville Land company at the East End, was yesterday sold to a syndicate with whom the Land company is in negotiation, for $25,000. It is probable that a few weeks will see a very important realty deal consummated at New London.

All jury cases at district court are completed and the court has been trying cases in chambers today. There are a large number of cases to be tried in this way and the judge will be busy for some time in trying them. The move for an associate judge of the district court is gaining ground and such a one will probably be allowed soon.

Articles of incorporation of the Duluth Baptist union have been filed with the secretary of state. The officers named are Z. D. Scott, president; Andrew Jackson, vice president; E. S. Bronson, secretary and managers Rev. G. H. McClelland, Rev. A. H. Ballant, Rev. G. E. Hilton, W. F. Harbut, E. S. Bronson, Z. D. Scott, H. H. Hanford, Andrew Jackson, W. W. Billson, J. F. Trelin, P. L. Peterson and A. B. Anderson.

Duluth is so far ahead of the game in the lottery business. A number of small prizes have been drawn by people here, mostly printers, in the past year or two, but it was reserved for a lumberman, Anton Marcus, to get the biggest slice, or $15,000.

The Louisiana Lottery will probably receive such an influx of dollars from Duluth that they will make up the $15,000 from this place alone in a month or less.

FROM DISTANT DOMAINS.

SYDNEY, Australia, will soon have the largest organ in the world. It will cost $75,000.

When the last Indian census was taken there were 131,000 Indians in British India, 10,000 of them being males.

The Empress Frederick has given to Queen Victoria the small writing-desk used by her husband in the last days of his life.

A LONDON paper says there are still twenty-three islands in the Pacific Ocean which no nation has set up a claim to, and it advises John Bull to lose no time in taking them and filling his claim.

MISS DAVENPORT, the Irish lady who has been appointed governess to the infant King of Spain, will be entitled to the whole of her salary of £200 a year as a perpetual pension at the end of five years.

TREX is no theatrical bill posting in Mexico, and the newspapers print theatrical advertisements free. The newspapers do not, as a rule, accept tickets, but subscribe for the number desired for the staff.

It is stated that the Emperor William is writing a narrative of the events of his recent visit to the northern capitals, which will be published together with the woodcuts of sketches made by himself and the artist Salzman.

A BOTANICAL explorer from Germany recently discovered in one of the Philippine islands a number of plants whose flowers were almost a yard in diameter, the petals, five in number, being oval and of a creamy white shade.

IN Nagasaki, China, lives a fire-works maker who manufactures pyrotechnic birds of great size that, when exploded, sail like through the air and perform many movements exactly like living birds. The secret of making these wonderful things has been in the possession of the oldest male child of the family of each generation for over 400 years.

A RETURN missionary from India says that a stranger approaching one of the mission schools would imagine from the racket that the pupils were very disorderly. But this is not the case. It is due to the fact that a girl in India when studying screams at the top of her voice and rocks back and forth, and the more interested she becomes in her lesson the louder she screams and the harder she rocks.

THERE is a human hair market at Moraine, in the Lower Pyrenees. It is held every other Friday. Hundreds of hair-dressers resort to the place to buy up the tresses of the young peasant girls. The dealers wander up and down the long, narrow street of the town, each with a huge pair of bright shears hanging from a strap around his waist, while the young girls who wish to part with their hair stand about in the doorways, usually in couples.

Lots and blocks in Third division, bargains. C. E. Lowrey & Co.

Chas. T. Abbott, real estate office West Duluth.

Try The

MAGNOLIA CIGAR.

—AT—

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

ODD ORGANIZATIONS.

At Roseburg, Ore., is a "Ladies' Hammer Brigade," which makes a point of keeping down the nails in the wooden sidewalks.

THERE are twenty-eight hundred members of the Michigan Anti-Horse-Thief Society, and during the past year they have not had a cent's worth of property stolen.

Fifty-five ladies of Ulia have signed an agreement not to let a man crowd past them when in the theater unless he is going out on some other business than to guzzle liquor.

SOME Wilkesbarre (Pa.) young men who have been dubbed the "Pious Ten" have organized an anti-profanity club. As $1.50 in fines were collected within ten minutes after the adoption of the by-laws it is expected that the club will live high, for a time at least.

The "Lady Guide Association" is a new enterprise which proposes to organize a staff of qualified lady guides to conduct parties of visitors to London, thereby opening a new employment for intelligent women and rendering a substantial and needed form of public service.

An anti-fencing society has been founded in Chemnitz, Saxony. There are no membership dues, all that is required of members being a written declaration that they will abstain from fencing. Each member is to be provided with a metal ticket, which he can display to his expected waiter as a sign that there is to be no fee.

A VERY odd dining organization in Philadelphia is known as the Ishmaelites. The apartment in which the feast is held is always decorated in the Oriental fashion, some of the features introduced being very luxurious and striking. During each season there is a Muezzin who presides and rules the feast and who also delivers a mock prayer and has a peculiar song. All wear turbans or fez caps with long robes and ornaments around their necks.

MASSACHUSETTS has a characteristic society whose headquarters are, of course, in Boston, and its name is "The Massachusetts Society for Promoting Good Citizenship." It proposes a course of lectures this winter. Edward Everett Hale, the president of the society, will begin with an address on "Possible Boston." Other eminent men will talk about "The Rise of American Cities," "Boston Under the Town Meetings," "The Duties of the Modern Mayor," "City Government in England," "City Government in Germany," "Josiah Quincy, the Great Mayor," and "The True School Board."

A handsome complexion is one of the greatest charms a woman can possess. P. zzzini's complexion powder gives it.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and can be sold in competition of the multitude of low quality, adulterated, and inferior brands.

Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

NOTICE

In condemnation proceedings for widening Superior street from Fourteenth avenue east to northern city limits

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned commissioners appointed by the Common Council of the City of Duluth, to view the premises and award damages in condemnation proceedings for the taking of private property for the widening of Superior street in said city from Fourteenth avenue east to northern city limits, which includes a portion of all the blocks, lots and parcels of land, on both sides said Superior street between the points above named, did on the 10th day of January, 1880, in the office of the City Clerk, and said city a plan of the proposed improvement to be made, exhibiting the land or parcels of property required to be taken, and that the said commissioners will meet on Thursday, January 22, 1880, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day in the office of the City Clerk to hear all parties interested and to award the damages for the property to be taken.

Dated January 16, 1880.

Geo. H. CLAYTON, Commissioner.

ROBERT STEINBERG, Commissioner.

Jan. 17-80.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR SLIPS AND FALLS!

Moral: Insure in the Travelers.

WENDELL P. MOSHER, Agent.

Under Duluth Nat. Bank.

J. B. SUTPHIN

COLD STORAGE

Wholesale dressed meats, Poultry and Provisions, Stock yards and abattoir at West Duluth. Dealer in draft and driving horses.

GLASS BLOCK LAUNDRY.

HIGH CLASS DOMESTIC FINISH. Special Rates on Lace Curtains and Family Washing. Centrally located.

W. E. KERNS, Prop.

105 West Superior street.

The finest Line of Optical goods in the city at

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

—AT—

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

HIGH GRADE GOODS

—AT—

LOW GRADE PRICES

—AT—

JACKSON'S

THE JEWELER.

ONE CENT A WORD COLUMN.

HELP WANTED.

Female.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSE work, amply family, Canadian preferred. 119 Third avenue east.

Male.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED DRY GOODS salesman at the Metropolitan dry goods store.

FOR RENT.

Houses.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED HOUSE of eight rooms, centrally located. Will lease for six months, house and furniture including piano. Address P. this office.

FOR RENT—A NEW 10 ROOM BRICK house, with all modern improvements, 125 East Third street. Apply at 112 East Third street.

HOUSE FOR RENT—3 ROOM HOUSE corner Fourth avenue east and First street, between the carpets, window draperies and stoves now in the house. Possession given from first of January. G. O. Hartley, room 26 Duluth Union National building.

Barn.

BARN—A GOOD WARM BARN FOR RENT. 211 East Superior street.

FINANCIAL.

LOANS—WE CAN LOAN $100 OR $100,000, without delay, at low rate of interest. McGregg & Jones, Room 46 Exchange building.

MONEY TO LOAN—GOOD BUILDING loans a specialty. Carefully written in respect to companies. Clague & Finkle, 322 Duluth National Bank building.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

DRESSMAKING

DRESSMAKING AND FAMILY SEWING. Apply 21 East Superior street.

ARCHITECTS.

E. S. PALMER, ARCHITECT AND SUPERINTENDENT, Room 46 Exchange building, Duluth, Minn.

MCWILLIEN & STEPHENS, ARCHITECTS and superintendents. Office room No. 46 Exchange building.

MUSIC.

MUSICAL LESSONS BY A NEW AND ORIGINAL method. Easy terms. Harry Harrington, No. 6 Open block.

MR. H. P. ROBINSON, BASS SOLIST, may be seen or addressed at his studio, No. 8 Miles block, to arrange for concert engagements, conducting and teaching.

W. P. SCHILLING—VOICE CULTURE West and piano study; 118 Third avenue west.

VETERINARY SURGEON.

J. G. FORSYTH, VETERINARY SURGEON, Graduate of Farmer Miles. Horses Shod Properly. 20 West First street.

HATTER AND FURRIER.

S. GELHAAR, N. Y. PRACTICAL FURRIER. All kinds of furs cleaned, altered and repaired. Seal equines dyed and refined a speciality. 211 West Superior street opposite Merchants hotel Duluth Minn.

OPTICIAN AND CONSULTING OPTICIAN.

PRESERVE YOUR EYE SIGHT—IF YOUR eyes blur, if you are troubled with old sight, near sight, far sight or astigmatism, try our spectacle and eye glasses. Results quickly attained. Oculist's prescriptions correctly filled. Neil, optician, Room 8, Hunter block.

TEACHER.

MISS MINNIE B. RAINY, TEACHER OF Voice Culture. 21 East Third street.

BOYCE & TOTMAN.

Are Headquarters for

TOILET ARTICLES.

HARRIS BROS.,

Three pieces of Acres.

Three double corners in Residence Property.

One West Superior Street lot.

THESE ARE REAL BARGAINS.

208 Duluth National Bank.

MYERS & WHIPPLE,

Careful and Judicious Investments Always Sure to Pay. We have some Bargains on Hand. Money to Loan in any amount. If not on hands can negotiate any amount on good property. Insurance carefully written in the best of companies. Call or write us. Duluth National Bank Building.

C. H. GRAVES & CO.,

INSURANCE

Real Estate & Loans

Acres at the West End.

Acres on the Hill.

Acres in the East End.

Lots in Portland.

150 Lots in Endion.

300 Lots in London.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO.

We have Genuine Bargains in Lots and Blocks near the Car Works at West Duluth. All we ask is for parties to look at our prices, and if prices are not lower than any other property in same vicinity, do not buy of us. Call in. Write

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO., ROOM 8, METROPOLITAN BL'K.

ECKERT, WILLIAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE COMMISSION

Corn, Oats, Flour, Mill Feed, Hay, Etc.

Office and Warehouse on Lake Ave., opp. Sutphin's Cold Storage

AND DEALERS IN

City Transportation, Freight & Express Drays

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

SEWERS CONNECTED.

P. V. DWYER & BROS.,

PLUMBERS

No. 16 Second Avenue West, Duluth.

ACRES! ACRES!

Now is the time to buy. No firm at Duluth has a better or larger list than we have.

Kimberley & Stryker's Addition—A few Half Blocks left from first hand.

Clinton Place—One half block at a bargain; easy terms. Lots in both these handsome additions cheap. Money to loan.

Kimberley, Stryker & Manley,

5 & 6 DULUTH NATIONAL BANK BUILDING.

C. B. WOODRUFF,

Wholesale and Retail

LUMBER,

Office, yards and Planing Mill 739 Garfield Ave. (2nd Street) Rice's Point

Complete stock of Dry Lumber, all grades.

Joist, Dimension, Boards, Flooring, Ceiling, Siding and Oak Flooring.

Long Joist 2x10, 2x12 and 2x14, 12 to 26 feet long.

Crowning by machinery a specialty.

Will deliver lumber to any part of the city.

Mail bill of Lumber wanted or call for prices

Telephone No. 132.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

MISSING ISSUE

Place of Publication: Duluth

Title: evening HERALD

Date: Jan 18, 1889

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The C. L. White mill at Tower is closed down at present owing to the difficulty of getting logs.

Sports from Ashland, Tower and all neighboring points were in attendance on the pug encounter here last night.

Real estate transfers filed yesterday were 19, with a total consideration of $118,074. One of them was from J. R. Myers to Geo. N. Lyman, of Milwaukee part of sections 26 and 35 in township 49-15 for $200,000. This sale was mentioned some weeks ago.

The certificate of the president and the directors of the Minnesota Car company was filed with the secretary of state yesterday, which showed the condition of their business. The capital stock of the company is $1,000,000; the subscribed stock, $301,000; stock paid in, $220,000.

The expected increase in cold, prophesied yesterday, failed to materialize and the government thermometer this forenoon instead of being twenty degrees below was four above; an unexpected south wind made the difference. Today has been dull and cloudy with a prospect of rain.

In the personal injury suit of Joseph Raymond by administrator, John S. Sabin, against the St. Paul & Duluth Railway company to recover $10,000, the jury has returned a verdict for $4,500. Michael Sobieski also obtained a verdict of $7,000 against the St. Paul & Duluth road for a lost arm.

The John G. Howard mill back of the city is now cutting 30,000 feet of lumber and 50,000 shingles daily. A side track has been put in near the old building of the Duluth Packing company and ten teams are hauling from the mill to a yard at that point from which it is Mr. Howard's intention to supply city trade. The mill is supplied from a distance of two miles and all the lumber it will cut some 4,000,000 feet during the year and fifty or sixty men are now employed in the mill and at the choppings.

Excursion Tickets South.

"The North Western Line"—Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad—will sell tickets to many of the principal points in the south at greatly reduced rates on following dates:

December 31st, January 15th and 29th, February 12th and 26th, and March 12th and 26th. Tickets will be good to return within 60 days from date of sale, and privilege of stop over at points south of Ohio river. Call at city or depot office of "The North Western Line."

Geo. M. Smith, General Agent.

Money to loan, KIMBERLEY, STRYKER & MANLEY.

THEY HELD WATER

How the Tables Were Turned On a Minister Fond of Fishing.

"Modern conveniences," in case of accident, often cause more trouble than the want of them. Here is a ludicrous example that illustrates it—or at least it shows that people who wade in rubber pants don't keep right side up.

The Harpersburg (Pa.) Telegraph tells the story at the expense of a well known minister who is very fond of trout fishing.

A friend made him a present of rubber trousers, attached to which were heavy boots, the whole arrangement forming one piece. He waded in the streams and fished, and cured the other fishermen who didn't own gun trousers, and had lots of sport.

At night, when they came in tired and hungry, the dominie would be nice and dry, while the other fellows would be more or less wet, according to their mishaps, and, of course, would be chaffed by the minister.

One morning they were all standing on the bank, watching him wading in deep water, and everying him, when all of a sudden he slipped on a slippery stone, his feet went up, and he went in over head.

They fished him out, and found he weighed about a ton, the water having filled up his boots and trousers to the waist. The funny part of it was that they couldn't pull off the combined boots and trousers, and so they had to stand him on his head against a tree until the water all ran out.

It was a very undignified and uncomfortable position for a minister, made more so by the boys, who stood around and dangled on the great convenience gun trousers were to a man who went fishing. But he still fishes, and once a year comes to Pennsylvania to "whip" his favorite stream.

A Mother in the Play.

Some queer mistakes happen to actresses, due to the many roles they enact upon the stage. Recently Miss Kathryn Kidder, who is playing the part of mother to Little Lord Fauntleroy at the Broadway theatre, attended a reception. The hostess introduced her to a lady, with this remark: "She is the mother of Little Lord Fauntleroy." Somehow the lady interpreted the remark literally and began to question Miss Kidder about the age of her little son and when she permitted him to go on the stage. It was an embarrassing moment, when the young actress explained that she was only the mother in the play and not in real life. Miss Kidder is young and has a rich father, who is willing to star her any time she desires. She told a reporter that she preferred to work patiently and become a star in the legitimate course of her career rather than start out prematurely and run the risk of not making a financial success. As she was only 20 years old, she avowed that she could wait. Miss Kidder began her stage career when she was only 10 years old, and made a success with Mayo in "Nordic" and in Gillette's "Held by the Enemy." She is not at all superstitious, but yet one season she possessed a peacock fan which the manager declared brought her luck to the door every night. One night Miss Kidder deliberately laid the peacock fan in the middle of the street and left it there. Business improved from that hour.—New York Mail and Express.

Origin of a Popular Song.

The popular ballad, "Listen to the Mocking Bird," was written and first published in 1855, by Septimus Winner, of Philadelphia, under the nom de plume of "Allice Hawthorne," his mother's maiden name. It was suggested incidentally by listening to a colored man, Dick Milburn, known as "Whistling Dick," who wandered about the city whistling in imitation of a mocking bird, at the same time strumming an accompaniment upon the guitar. Struck by his remarkable performance as a warbler Mr. W. said to him one day, half in jest, "Dick, I'll write you a song for your mocking bird." The compass of the colored man's voice was hardly an octave, and as will be observed, the melody was made very simple, so as not to be beyond his reach. The words, "Listen to the Mocking Bird," which ran higher, were to be spoken by him, and sung, except where they came within his compass, followed by the whistler's marvelous imitation of the bird.

The man was a very good natured fellow, but of so little intellectual capacity that though he came to Mr. Winner's music store night after night to learn the words of the song, he was never able to master more than one verse of it. Such, however, was his sense of the comic and such his facility in providing lines to the music, suggesting ridiculous fancies to attract the crowd, that his "Mocking Bird" soon gained greatly to Dick's local reputation. The song was published in ballad form, and at once became very popular, and such is its hold upon the public fancy that although it has been sung and whistled and played the country over for an average lifetime, it still retains its place as a song of national reputation.—Philadelphia Record.

Try The

MAGNOLIA CIGAR.

—AT—

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

EAGER TO BE JOURNALISTS.

Newspaper Offices Floated with Requests for a Chance to Draw a Blank.

"I think every young man and young woman in this town wants to go into journalism."

The speaker was one of the best known managing editors in New York city, and he passed his hand over his troubled brow as he spoke.

"I get about forty applications per day from men and women who want to become journalists, and the proprietor of this paper gets twice as many more. A young man whom I know to be making $100 per week in the dry goods business came to me and offered to work for $25 per week as a reporter. It makes me a trifle weary. If these young men and women knew how many blanks there are in this lottery and how few prizes drawn they would quit."

This managing editor was in a bad humor, but he was all right as to facts. There isn't a newspaper office in town that isn't flooded with applications for work. The prices in New York journalism are low. You are reasonably sure of drawing a blank pretty nearly every time. There are more than 1,000 hard work newspaper men in New York city. Outside of their own offices and the New York Press club not two dozen of them are known to the general public. Those who are well known outside of New York could almost be counted upon the fingers of a single hand.

The men who have drawn prizes cannot themselves tell you how they did it. All they know is that they started at the bottom and got there—somehow.

This is not intended to encourage printers' devils to throw type around, but as an illustration.

Charles A. Dana is, perhaps, the most famous of the men who have drawn prizes. As editor of The Sun he draws a salary of $25,000 per year, and from other sources his income is swelled to about $150,000 per year, upon which he manages to live very comfortably, aided by a French cook, whose income is bigger than that of a congressman. Dana started on The New York Tribune at a salary of $12 per week. He started in a small way from a town in the interior of Ohio. Joseph Pulitzer, of The World, is said to clear $2,000 per day. He is not a working journalist now, but not many years ago he was an ordinary reporter in St. Louis, and they say he was a hustler, too. Whitelaw Reid, as a master of the pen, draws a salary of some $15,000 per year from The Tribune, but his income from his stock in the paper is several times this amount.

John A. Cockerill is one of the working managing editors and newspaper men, and draws a salary of $15,000 per year from The World, and has an interest in it besides. Cockerill was a typo, and fought his way up from the ranks. Anne Cunningham is said to have an income of $15,000 per year. He was a compositor and a private in the Union army during the rebellion, and he, too, came from the bottom up to where he is now. Chester A. Lord, the managing editor of The Sun, has a salary of $7,500 per year. He started on a small paper in the interior of this state, and had to work hard for some of it. He is little known outside of New York.

George F. Spencey, as managing editor of The New York Times, has a salary of about $7,000 per year. But he has been a hard working journalist all his life, and the salary is not so much. He is little known outside of New York.

There are probably fifty or sixty men who are simply writers, like Blakely Hall and Julian Ralph, who earn anywhere from $40 to $150 per week, but, with the exception of the men named, and four or five more, they are never heard or spoken of except in their own homes and circles.

At the Fifth Avenue hotel the other night Archie Gunter, the author of "Mr. Barnes, of New York," was a lion. He was more courted than any one at the hotel, and most of the young men around him are ambitious to become journalists. If they knew of Gunter's struggles up to the time that he succeeded in getting "Mr. Barnes, of New York," before the public they would hesitate.

If they could go into any newspaper office and see how long and how hard men work for small salaries, they would hesitate some more. And if they could go into some other places and see some of the wrecks that the titles of the years have cast up on the shores of journalism, they would go into some other business.—New York Mail and Express.

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

ROYAL

HIGH GRADE GOODS—AT—LOW
GRADE PRICES—AT—JACKSON'STHE
JEWELER.J.D. & R.C. RAY,
Real Estate.

Duluth National Bank Building.

ONE CENT A WORD COLUMN.

HELP WANTED.

Female.

WANTED, AN AMERICAN GIRL, experienced in nursing; willing to do domestic work; good references. Address 317 West First street.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork, small family, Canadian preferred. 10 Third avenue east.

Male.

FOR RENT.

House.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED HOUSE OF eight rooms, centrally located. Will lease for six months, house and furniture including piano. Address P. O. office.

FOR RENT—A NICE NEW 10 ROOM BRICK house, with all modern improvements, 125 East Third street. Apply at 125 East Third street.

HOUSE FOR RENT—A ROOM HOUSE corner Fourth avenue east and First street. Lessee to buy the carpets, window draperies and stove now in the house. Possession given from first to middle of January. G. G. Hartley, room 222 Duluth Union National building.

Barn.

BARN—A GOOD WARM BARN FOR RENT. 211 East Superior street.

FINANCIAL.

LOANS—WE CAN LOAN $100 OR $100,000, without delay, at low rate of interest. McGregor & Bowes, Room 10, Metropolitan block.

MONEY TO LOAN—GOOD BUILDING loans a specialty. Insurance carefully written in responsible companies. Clarno & Prindle, 303 Duluth National Bank building.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

ARCHITECTS.

E. S. PALMER, P. L. PALMER & HALL, ARCHITECTS AND Superintendents, Room 46 Exchange building, Duluth, Minn.

MCMILLAN & STEBBINS, ARCHITECTS and superintendents. Office room No. Exchange building.

MUSIC.

UTAR LESSONS BY A NEW AND ORIGINAL method. Easy terms. Harry Harrington, No. 6 Opera block.

MR. H. P. ROBINSON, BASS SOLOIST. May be seen or addressed at his studio, No. 8 Miles block, to arrange for concert engagements, conducting and teaching.

W. P. SCHILLING—VOICE CULTURE West. and piano study; 118 Third avenue.

HATTER AND FURRIER.

SHULMAN, N. Y. PRACTICAL FURRIER. All kinds of furs cleaned, altered and repaired. Suits reglazed and refined a specialty. 201 West Superior street opposite Mercha hotel, Duluth, Minn.

OPTICIAN AND CONSULTING OCU-LIST.

PRESERVE YOUR EYE SIGHT—IF YOUR eyes blur, if you are troubled with old sight, near sight, far sight or astigmatism, try our spectacle and eye glasses. Results guaranteed. Ocular prescriptions correctly filled. Neil, optician, Room E, Hunter block.

TEACHER.

MISS MINNIE B. RAINEY, TEACHER OF Voice Culture. 21 East Third street.

BOYCE & TOTMAN.

Are Headquarters for

TOILET ARTICLES.

HARRIS BROS.,

Three pieces of Acres.
Three double corners in Residence Property.
One West Superior Street lot.
THESE ARE REAL BARGAINS.

208 Duluth National Bank.

MYERS & WHIPPLE,

Careful and Judicious Investments Always Sure to Pay. We have some Bargains on Hand. Money to Loan in any amount. If not on hands can negotiate any amount on good property. Insurance carefully written in the best of companies. Call or write us. Duluth National Bank Building.

C. H. GRAVES & CO.,

INSURANCE

Real Estate & Loans

Acres at the West End.
Acres on the Hill.
Acres in the East End.
Lots in Portland.
150 Lots in Endion.
300 Lots in London.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO.

We have Genuine Bargains in Lots and Blocks near the Car Works at West Duluth. All we ask is for parties to look at our prices, and if prices are not lower than any other property in same vicinity, do not buy of us. Call in. Write

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO., ROOM 8, METROPOLITAN BL'K.

ECKERT, WILLIAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE COMMISSION

AND DEALERS IN

Corn, Oats, Flour, Mill Feed, Hay, Etc.

Office and Warehouse on Lake Ave., opp. Sutphin's Cold Storage

SEWERS CONNECTED.

P. V. DWYER & BROS.,

PLUMBERS

No. 16 Second Avenue West, Duluth.

ACRES! ACRES!

Now is the time to buy. No firm at Duluth has a better or larger list than we have.

Kimberley & Stryker's Addition—A few Half Blocks left from first land.

Clinton Place—One half block at a bargain; easy terms. Lots in both these handsome additions cheap. Money to loan.

Kimberley, Stryker & Manley,
5 & 6 DULUTH NATIONAL BANK BUILDING.

C. B. WOODRUFF,

Wholesale and Retail

LUMBER,

Office, yards and Planing Mill 729 Garfield Ave. (3rd Street) Rice's Point

Complete stock of Dry Lumber, all grades.
Joist, Dimension, Boards, Flooring, Ceiling, Siding and Oak Flooring.
Long Joist 2x10, 2x12 and 2x14, 12 to 26 feet long.

Crowning by machinery a specialty.
Will deliver lumber to any part of the city.
Telephone No. 132. Mail bill of Lumber wanted or call for prices

Murnane & Spencer,
SPORTING HEADQUARTERS.

22 WEST SUPERIOR STREET.

CHOICE WINES, LIQUORS AND CIGARS.

All sporting news received here. All sporting papers on file.

MORISON & MACFARLANE.

32 Exchange Building,

Have Lots and Blocks in the Grassy Point additions; in the immediate vicinity of the West End improvements, for Sale at Great Bargains; also acreage suitable for platting on the St

TABLE 1

UNION DEPOT TIME TABLE.
ST. PAUL & DULUTH RAILROAD.
Morning Ex.
Daily.
Except	Limited	Night Ex.
Leave Duluth.....	Sunday. Daily.	Daily.
3:50 a.m.	1:40 p.m.
St. Paul.....	3:20 p.m.	10:40 p.m.
Ar Minneapolis.....	6:40 a.m.	8:55 a.m.
Ar Milwaukee.....	3:35 p.m.	10:35 p.m.
Ar Stillwater.....	5:20 p.m.	7:15 a.m.
Ar Milwaukee.....	5:20 p.m.	8:40 a.m.
Ar Chicago.....	9:50 a.m.	10:00 p.m.
Ar St. Louis.....	7:30 p.m.	7:45 p.m.
Ar Kansas City.....	4:55 p.m.	7:10 p.m.

* Except Sunday—to other points daily.

Commencing Monday, August 20, 1906, Duluth and Ashland passenger trains will be as follows:

Leaves Duluth for Ashland	7:00 a. m.
Arrives Ashland	7:30 a. m.
Leaves Ashland for Duluth	7:45 a. m.
Arrives Duluth	8:00 a. m.
Leaves Duluth for Ashland	8:30 a. m.
Arrives Ashland	9:00 a. m.
Leaves Ashland for Duluth	9:15 a. m.
Arrives Duluth	9:30 a. m.

Freight trains arrive and depart from Edson station as follows:

No. 1. Leave Edson	4:35 p. m.
No. 4. Arrive Edson	4:45 p. m.

W. H. Bums, Supt.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD

Leave Duluth for Grand Forks, Fargo, Helena, Tacoma and Portland

Leaves Duluth	4:00 p. m.
Arrives Grand Forks	7:30 p. m.
Arrives Fargo	8:00 p. m.
Arrives Helena	9:00 p. m.
Arrives Tacoma	9:40 p. m.
Arrives Portland	10:00 p. m.

Leaves Duluth for Ashland, Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis

Leaves Duluth	6:00 p. m.
Arrives Ashland	6:30 p. m.
Arrives Milwaukee	7:00 p. m.
Arrives Chicago	8:00 p. m.
Arrives St. Paul	9:00 p. m.
Arrives Minneapolis	9:30 p. m.

Leaves Duluth for Ashland, Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis

Leaves Duluth	6:30 p. m.
Arrives Ashland	7:00 p. m.
Arrives Milwaukee	7:30 p. m.
Arrives Chicago	8:30 p. m.
Arrives St. Paul	9:30 p. m.
Arrives Minneapolis	10:00 p. m.

NORTH PACIFIC, DELTUL AND SHORT LINE
	TRAIN
Leave Duluth	5:30 am	Arrive Duluth	5:59 am
"	7:30 am	"	7:59 am
"	9:10 am	"	9:39 am
"	10:45 am	"	11:14 am
"	1:45 pm	"	1:59 pm
"	2:40 pm	"	2:59 pm
"	3:00 pm	"	3:23 pm
"	4:45 pm	"	5:00 pm
"	6:10 pm	"	6:35 pm
"	7:40 pm	"	8:05 pm
"	10:40 pm	"	11:05 pm
West Superior only
Leave Superior	5:30 am	Arrive Superior	5:50 am
Omaha Dep.	9:55 am	"	9:50 am
"	11:40 am	"	11:25 am
"	1:40 pm	"	1:31 pm
"	1:50 pm	"	3:41 pm
"	3:55 pm	"	4:00 pm
"	8:55 pm	"	9:00 pm
"	6:40 pm	"	6:50 pm
"	7:40 pm	"	7:51 pm
Leave West Superior for Duluth
"	5:30 am	"	5:55 am
"	7:30 am	"	7:55 am
"	9:10 am	"	9:00 am
"	10:45 am	"	10:55 am
"	1:45 pm	"	1:55 pm
"	2:40 pm	"	2:55 pm
"	3:00 pm	"	3:10 pm
"	4:45 pm	"	4:55 pm
"	6:10 pm	"	6:20 pm
"	7:40 pm	"	7:50 pm

..	11:43 am
..	11:45 am
..	2:01 pm
..	4:29 pm
..	6:42 pm
..	7:59 pm
Leave West Superior for Superior.	7:59 am
..	9:25 ..
..	11:07 am
..	1:25 pm
..	3:42pm
..	6:25 pm
..	7:53 pm
..	8:15 pm
SUNDAY ONLY.
Leave Duluth for Superior.	8:31 am
..	11:40 pm
Leave Superior.	1:25 pm
9:30 am	Arrives Duluth.	10:15 am
1:45 pm	6:55 pm
J. C. HODINSON.
Ticket Agent N. P. R. R.
Union Depot.
*Daily.
*Daily except Sunday.
*Daily except Monday.

CONDENSED TIME TABLE.

CHICAGO, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS & C AND RAILWAY.

	Ex. Sunday.	Daily.
Leave Duluth.....	10 30 am	10 01 pm
Arrive St. Paul.....	6 00 pm	6 55 am
Arrive Minneapolis.....	6 40 pm	7 35 am
Leave Duluth.....	10 30 am	10 01 pm
Arrive Hayward.....	3 21 pm	4 15 am
Arrive Ashland.....	6 45 pm	7 00 am
Arrive Washburn.....	6 00 pm	7 15 am
Arrive Bayfield.....	6 35 pm	7 50 am

Chicago Leave Duluth..... Daily 10 30 am
Chicago Leave Duluth..... Daily 10 30 am

Line Arrive Eau Claire 6:25 p.m.
Line Arrive Madison 8:00 p.m.
Line Arrive Chicago 1:34 a.m.
Trains arrive at Duluth: 7:00 a.m.
From Eau Claire and Chicago 6:25 p.m.
From St. Paul and Minneapolis (8) a.m.

General Agent,
C. E. MONTGOMERY
West Superior Street, Duluth.

Past Mail Line with Vestibuled Trains between Chicago, Milwaukee, & Paul and Minneapolis.

Trans-Continental Route between Chicago and St. Paul, Omaha and the Pacific Coast.

Kansas National Route between Chicago, Kansas City and St. Joseph. Mo., 5,700 miles of road reaching all principal points in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Dakota.

For maps, time tables, rates of passage and freight, etc., apply to the nearest station agent of the CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL railway, or to any railway agent anywhere in the world.

Bowtell Miller A. V. H. Carpenter,
General Manager, Gen'l Passag. and Frt.

There is no line so handsomely equipped as the Through Passenger Service on the Northwestern Line* C. St. P. & M. & T. & N. & the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago trains over this line have a better record for punctuality either on the "on time" than those of any other line in the country.

THE

All well posted travelers between the Twin Cities and Chicago take this line—particularly favoring the "Vestibule Limited," which carries the best sleeping cars and coaches over the line, and also all classes of passengers, without extra fares. On the Lake Superior portion of the line, between Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, and Sault Ste. Paul and Ashland, Pullman sleepers are run on night trains, and parlor cars on day trains.

NORTHWESTERN

Pullman sleepers are also run through between Duluth, Superior and Chicago. Fast through trains are also run between Minneapolis and Chicago. The Chicago-Sioux City, with through Pullman sleepers St. Paul to Omaha and Kansas City. Dining cars are run on all through trains over the line between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago, and between St. Paul and Kansas City. Besides being the best between these principal cities, the Chicago & Northwestern system of lines composed of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, Chicago & Northwestern and Freadvertised as the "Northwestern Line," traverses a rich and populous country, and offers the opportunity of reaching all the principal cities of the territory intersected by this line. In selecting a route, travelers should consult the map of this line, and they will quickly see the advantages offered. All particulars, with maps and time tables, may be obtained of

LINE

GEO. M. SMITH,
Gen'l Agent Duluth.

Or write to
T. W. TEARDALE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent, St. Paul.

	Except	Limited	Night Ex.
	Sunday	Daily	Daily
Leave Duluth.....	8:09 a.m.	1:07 p.m.	7:06 p.m.
Ar St. Paul.....	3:20 p.m.	7:10 p.m.	2:02 a.m.
Ar Chicago.....	1:00 p.m.	5:00 p.m.	11:00 p.m.
Ar Stillwater.....	3:20 p.m.	7:10 p.m.	2:02 a.m.
Ar Chicago.....	1:00 p.m.	5:00 p.m.	11:00 p.m.
Ar St. Louis.....	6:00 a.m.	7:10 p.m.	7:06 p.m.
Ar Kansas City.....	1:00 p.m.	5:00 p.m.	11:00 p.m.
Except Sunday—to other points daily.

BULTY & HOFF RANGEL RAILROAD.

Commencing Monday, August 20, 1906, following schedule:

Passenger trains leave Duluth for Superior and return daily, Sunday excepted, as follows:

No. 1—Duluth depot for Superior..... 8:00 a.m. and Ry.—Union depot from tower
 No. 2—Superior depot for Duluth..... 11:00 a.m.
 Freight trains arrive and depart from Endion No. 4. Leave Endion..... 9:30 a.m.

W. H. Bums, Supt.

NORTHERN PACIFIC MAIL-ROAD.

Leave Duluth for Grand Forks, Fargo,
Helen, Tacoma and Portland 5:00 p.m.
Arrive at Grand Forks, Fargo, etc. 7:30 a.m.
Leave Duluth for Ashland, Milwaukee and Chicago 7:00 p.m.
Arrive at Ashland, Milwaukee, and Chicago 9:12 a.m.

TRAIN.

NORTHERN PACIFIC, DULUTH AND THORO LINE.

Leave Duluth 5:30 a.m. Arrive Duluth 5:59 a.m.
" " 8:10 a.m. " " 7:00 p.m.
" " 10:45 a.m. " " 7:30 p.m.
" " 1:45 p.m. " " 10:30 p.m.
" " 2:40 p.m. " " 11:45 p.m.
" " 3:00 p.m. " " 12:25 p.m.
" " 4:45 p.m. " " 2:05 p.m.
" " 6:10 p.m. " " 4:30 p.m.

[illegible]

"	"	3 45 pm
"	"	3 50 pm
"	"	3 55 pm
"	"	4 15 pm

SUNDAY ONLY.

Leave Duluth for Superior.....	8 31 am
Arrive Superior.....	10 40 pm
Leave Superior.....	10 45 pm
Arrive Duluth.....	10 55 am
"	11 15 am
"	6 25 pm

J. C. HOODSON.

Ticket Agent N. P. R. R.

Duluth Depot.

*Daily.
 *Daily except Sunday.
 *Daily except Monday.

CONDENSED TIME TABLE.

RAILWAY.
CHICAGO, ST. PAUL, MINNEAPOLIS & C. N. R.
Leave Duluth.....	10 30 am	Daily.
Arrive Superior.....	10 40 pm	10 40 pm

Leave St. Paul.....	6:00 pm	6:55 am
Arrive Minneapolis.....	6:40 pm	5:35 am
Leave Duluth.....	10:30 am	10:00 pm
Arrive Hayward.....	9:21 pm	1:10 am
Arrive Ashland.....	6:45 pm	2:15 am
Arrive Washburn.....	6:00 pm	2:15 am
Arrive Bayfield.....	4:30 pm	2:15 am
Chicago Leave Duluth.....	Daily 10:30 am
Through St. Paul.....	Daily 10:30 am
Line Arrive Fairbairn.....	2:25 pm
Arrive Madison.....	3:40 pm
Arrive Madison.....	3:40 pm
Trains arrive at Duluth.....	5:25 pm
Chicago Leave Chicago.....	6:00 pm
From St. Paul and Minneapolis.....	6:30 am

GEO. M. SMITH
General Agent,
Mc Wain Superior Street, Duluth.

CHICAGO MILWAUKEE
AND ST. PAUL RAILWAY CO.

Fast Mail Line with Vestibuled Trains between Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Trans-Continental Route between Chicago, Council Bluffs, Omaha and the Pacific Coast.

Great National Route between Chicago, Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., Minneapolis and Detroit.

5,700 miles of road reaching all principal points in Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Dakota.

For maps, time tables, rates of passage and tickets apply to nearest agent.

agent of the CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE, & ST. PAUL RAILROADS, or to any railway agent anywhere in the world.

Boswell Miller A. V. H. Carpenter,
General Manager. Gen'l Pass and Ticket Agent.

'Always on Time'

There is no line so handsomely equipped for Through Passenger Service as "The Northwestern Line"—C. St. P. M. & O. R'y.—and the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago trains over this line have a better record on time than any of their com-

THE

All well posted travelers between the Twin Cities and Chicago take this line—particularly favoring the "Vestibule Limited," which carries the best sleeping cars and coaches—well built, and also all classes of passengers, without extra fares. On the Lake Superior portion of the line, between Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, and St. Paul and Ashland, Pullman sleepers are run on night trains, and parlor cars on day trains.

NORTHWESTERN

Pullman sleepers are also run through between Duluth, Superior and Chicago. Fast through trains are also run between

[illegible]

with maps and time tables, may be obtained of
GEO. M. SMITH,
Gen'l Agent Duluth.
Or write to
T. W. TEARDALE,
Gen'l Passenger Agent, St. Paul.

THE DAY IN THE CITY.

The Rice Point shipyard is being put in readiness for business.

Coal docks are full of coal, a remarkable condition of things at this time of year. The council meets this evening and the chamber of commerce tomorrow forenoon. City hydrant tests were out this morning. They found two hydrants in bad shape.

The formal organization of the new National Bank of Commerce is nearly completed.

An important session of the chamber of commerce will be held tomorrow forenoon at the usual time.

The Eastern road will store a large amount of flour in its warehouses for spring shipment east.

The plate glass front has been put into the Parsons building and the structure presents a handsome appearance.

Among candidates for aldermanic honors in the third ward are mentioned Geo. Ash and M. H. Bywater, both good men.

The local bookstores begin to drop off. They have sold nearly a thousand copies in Duluth.

The Bethel acknowledges additional contributions of $265 from various persons of the total $100 was from Hon. W. L. Manning of St. Paul.

Capt. McDougall returned Saturday night from the east. He expects to build some kind of a craft at the Rice Point shipyard in the near future.

Piles are being hauled for the three-story brick bank building for West Duluth. It is hoped to have the entire structure ready for occupancy June first.

Win. Thompson, who shot a negro woman in a St. Louis avenue house of ill fame a few weeks ago, was, Friday, arrested in Fargo and was brought here yesterday.

The mercury dropped this morning under the influence of a cold north wind to 1 degree above zero. During the day it has been sunny and pleasant though cold.

At the police court today but little has been going on except the commitment of three drunks. The pickup of a Sunday. Business at the court is unusually quiet this season.

Should there be no winds for several weeks for men are confident of getting a supply of lake ice for family consumption. It forms quickly in the pocket between the breakwater and canal and will thicken rapidly.

Duluth legislation in St. Paul is progressing well and we are apparently getting all we want this winter except, perhaps, the school of technology, which we want badly and decidedly deserve.

About February 1st the new Franklin school will be completed, and occupied as soon after as arrangements can be made, probably at the beginning of the spring term of the public schools.

Herring fishing is reported good by the few fishermen engaged in the business. A good breeze would make it much better, however, and would insure employment to half a hundred more fishermen in the city.

The Northwestern Loan and Investment company of Duluth has filed an increase of capital stock from $100,000 to five times that amount. The company is an extensive speculator in real estate and is composed almost entirely of Maine capitalists. It is a large holder of West Duluth property.

C. S. Barker has all of his dredges on dry dock for repairs and refitting, and is putting them through a course of no small change. His Rig Riser has been rebuilt and remodeled and will be better prepared for the dredge business than ever before. The captain expects to be busy this coming season.

When Duluth's mercury was 1 above zero this morning St. Paul's was 8 below and Moorhead was 22 below. Yesterday morning was 24 below and the cold of this morning was the edge of that wave which went on to St. Paul and south to Iowa in full force. It will be warmer here tomorrow.

Early Sunday morning the Pennsylvania house on East Superior street was found to be a fire and an alarm was quickly answered by the chemical and a hose cart. After the chemical was put to work a couple of minutes the water was turned on. The damage was light, and is fully covered by insurance.

Sleighting is good in the city and is fine on country roads back of it. Lumbermen state that they have about enough snow, if it will only last until they are through with hauling. If snow does not go back on them the present will prove to be the best winter known to lumbermen since Duluth became a lumber center.

An option has just been given to Messrs. Lovett and Harrison of 207 acres west of West Duluth for a sum approximating $450,000. The land optioned includes the east 1/2 of an of 14, the west 1/2 of an of section 13, an of an of section 24 and lot 1 section 24 all in township 49 range 15. The deal is a very large one and if carried out will eliminate a large party of the holdings of the Louisville Norborne in and about Duluth. Other trades have lately been made that close out other large interests of these outside holders.

Saturday evening Judge Carey's little office was crowded with Indians and white men from the Fond du Lac reservation at Cloquet. Messrs. Gowan, Hines and others being under examination for cutting logs unlawfully. The defendants waived examination and gave bail to appear before the United States court next June. The case is one previously mentioned, where the Indians claimed Hines and others were cutting logs after their contract had expired and on land not to be cut over. The defendants claim they are allowed to cut because their contract called for more logs than they could cut prior to last May, the date of expiration.

Excursion Tickets South. "The North Western Line"—Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad—will sell tickets to many of the principal points in the south at greatly reduced rates on following dates:

December 18th, January 15th and 29th, February 12th and 25th, and March 12th and 25th. Tickets will be good to return within 90 days from date of sale, and privilege of stop over at points south of Ohio river. Call at city or depot office of "The North Western Line."

Geo. M. Smith, General Agent.

Lots in Portland and Endion.

C. E. Lovett & Co.

Midwinter Excursions to St. Paul and Minneapolis—The "Duluth Short Line"—Tickets will be on sale to St. Paul and Minneapolis January 22, 24, 26, 28 and 31 good to return on or before February 3d via St. Paul & Duluth railroad at one fare for the round trip ($4.55).

Limited train leaves at 4:40 p. m. Three hours shorter time than any other line. Choices of three trains between Duluth, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

A Submarine Boat. Experiments with a submarine boat "Le Gymnote," made at London, have been very successful. The boat moves horizontally as well as vertically, and is easily kept at any depth that is desired. It can be run at a speed of from nine to ten knots. The light is good, and respiration easy. Its crew is ordinarily three, but during the experiments five persons were on board. The Revue Scientifique says that the new boat, an invention of Mr. Krebs, is a complete success, and will become of the greatest importance in marine warfare—Science.

Try The

MAGNOLIA CIGAR.

—AT—

BOYCE & TOTMAN'S.

A HELPING HAND.

How the Newsboys Assist One Another, Leading the Blind.

All the milk of human kindness is not to be found in the heart of the great and prosperous. Down among the little gamins of News-paper row exists a charity as sweet and as pure as any that is to be found in the city. It is a charity which is not based on the great incorporated institutions and societies which grace this city. If the busy throng which crowd that thoroughfare had time to notice anything they would see several times each day some poor, blind unfortunate being led through the intricacies of the crowd by one of these grotesque, ragged urchins whose cry of "See terdshun" is heard there from sunrise until long after darkness settles down.

By following a pair of this sort the other day the reporter became convinced that the street gamins, who, some moralists say, are the bursting seed whence criminals grow, have gentle, noble impulses, which would, if properly nurtured, bring them to better things. The boy was the regulation gamins—ragged, dirty, with pinched features, but withal as merry as a cricket. The blind man looked like what he was—a poor outcast, perhaps made so by his infirmity. Through the hazy mists of his blindness he led the delivery room of one of the daily papers, and, after placing him in a position in the line of "newsies" waiting for the next edition to come off the press, he ran out. At the door he was stopped, and under the potent influence of a bit of silver stepped into a doorway and submitted to a little questioning.

"Who's de blind feller? Why, dat's Blind Charlie. Is he me farther? Naw. He's a poor bloke wot live down here on Park row. So's 'e kin git de coin ter live on he has to sell papers. Wot was I leadin' 'im fer? Does yer tink he could git ter 'owd himself without any eyes? Does I tink I'm goot to lead him? Naw. Why, any newsy 'ud help Charlie or any of der blind feller wot's in der business. Is dere odders like Charlie? Dere's two or four of 'em wot live down 'ere on Park row and gits up early like we do. Den dey comes out onto de street, and any newsy wot sees 'em 'll lead 'em to de office fer papers. When dey gets a stock 'nuther newsy who has a stand near where de blind feller locates 'll lead 'im down. When he sells out 'nuther newsy who sees 'im 'll lead 'im back, and so dey scrapes along. Wot's all willin' ter help 'em except der Dago, and dey's too mean ter help any body."

Inquiry of the delivery clerks proved the boy's statement to be true. There are a half dozen blind newsboys, or rather newsmen, in this city who owe the fact that they are not sent to the workhouse simply to the kindness of their little co-workers. As the boy said, the "newsies" all know them, and whenever they see one of the unfortunates wanting to get to the newspaper office for a stock or the newspaper office wanting to get to a favorite corner some "embryonic criminal" always volunteers as a guide.

Another incident showing the generous impulses of these outdoor waifs. It occurred just in front of The Times building the other evening.

"Hello, Stumpy," said one gamin as he met another, "have yer fed yet?"

"Naw," replied Stumpy, "I guess I s'de eat I don't eat."

"No coin?" asked the other.

"Naw, red," was the response. "I owed Gimpy fourteen cents and paid him so 'e could get some shoes."

"How's yer appetite?" was the next query.

"Oh, dere's never any trouble on dat line," was the laconic response.

"Well, Stumpy," said the little fellow, "I tell yer. I got twenty cents and I was goot to have a scrumptious feed; but I reckon I'd have to let De's slide ter night. Let's adjourn ter de morning."

He took Stumpy's arm and the two walked off. The beauty of the act was that it was done without the least consciousness, but a faint gleam of benevolence shone in the air that was delightful.—New York Times.

A Felino Fisher.

John Hartford, of this city, owns a cat that, in some respects, differs from others of its kind. When the cat was first appeared along the shores this cat lost its appetite, and would eat nothing at all. It was supposed to be sick. One day Mr. Hartford saw a number of heads of sand eels in his back yard. Thinking they must be plenty at the shore, he went down to get a supply. When he got there the cat appeared, and jumped into the water and brought out a live smelt. Putting the finding of the fish heads in the back yard and the act of catching the fish together shows that the cat was living high on fresh fish, and liked them better than anything at the house.—Fall River (Mass.) Cor. New York Times.

While at Milan the emperor of Brazil had to pay $400 a day for his hotel charges, $20 a day for his food, $50 a day for telegraphing to Brazil and $240 a day for his two doctors.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

HIGH GRADE GOODS

AT LOW GRADE PRICES

AT JACKSON'S

THE JEWELER.

ONE CENT A WORD COLUMN.

HELP WANTED.

Female.

WANTED, AN AMERICAN GIRL, EX-

PERIENCE IN THE HOUSEHOLD. Will work; good references. Address W. C. Sherwood & Co.,

Room 8, Metropolitan Bldg.

WANTED—GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSE-

work, small family. Canadian preferred. 119 Third avenue east.

Male.

FOR RENT.

House.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED HOUSE OF

eight rooms, centrally located. Will lease for six months, house and furniture including piano. Address P. this office.

FOR RENT—A NICE NEW ROOM BRICK

house, with all modern improvements, 123

East Third street. Apply at 115 East Third street.

HOUSE FOR RENT—ROOM HOUSE CORner Fourth avenue east and First street.

Leases to buy the carpets, window draperies and stores now in the house. Possession given from first to middle of January. G. G.

Hartley, room 322 Duluth Union National building.

Barn.

BARN—A GOOD WARM BARN FOR RENT.

311 East Superior street.

LOST.

LOST—A SEALSKIN GLOVE, FINDER

If will please leave it at 328 Duluth National Bank building.

FINANCIAL.

MONEY TO LOAN—REPRESENTING

eastern capitalists, bankers and a mortgage company. Loans of any size negotiated promptly on low rates of interest.

N. J. Upham, Room 7, Metropolitan block.

LOANS—WE CAN LOAN $100 OR $100,000

at without delay, at low rate of interest.

McGregor & Bowers, Room 14, Metropolitan block.

MONEY TO LOAN—GOOD BUILDING

loans a specialty. Insurance carefully written in responsible companies. Chicago &

Trinidad, 322 Duluth National Bank building.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

ARCHITECTS.

E. & F. PALMER, L. P. HALL,

L. MILLER & HALL, ARCHITECTS AND

Superintendents, Room 46 Exchange building, Duluth, Minn.

MC MILLER & STEBBINS, ARCHITECTS

and superintendents. Office room No.

Exchange building.

MUSIC.

UTAR LESSONS BY A NEW AND ORIGinal method. Easy terms. Harry Harrington, No. 6 Opera block.

MR. H. P. ROBINSON, BASS SOLOIST.

May be seen or addressed at his studio,

No. 8 Miles block, to arrange for concert engagements, conducting and teaching.

W. P. SCHILLING—VOICE CULTURE and piano study; 115 Third avenue west.

HATTER AND FURRIER.

S. GELHAAR, N. Y. PRACTICAL FURRIER

All kinds of furs cleaned, altered and repaired. Seal acquies dried and retanned. Specialty 20 Superior street opposite Merchants hotel Duluth Minn.

OPTICIAN AND CONSULTING OC-

ULIST.

PRESERVE YOUR EYE SIGHT—IF YOUR eyes hurt, if you are troubled with old sight, near sight, far sight or astigmatism, try our spectacle and eye glasses. Remolds immended. Oculist's prescriptions correctly filled.

Nell, optician, Room 8, Hunter block

TEACHER.

MISS MINNIE B. RAINY, TEACHER OF Vocal Culture, 21 East Third street.

BOYCE & TOTMAN.

Are Headquarters for

TOILET ARTICLES.

HARRIS BROS.,

Three pieces of Acres.
Three double corners in Residence Property.
One West Superior Street lot.

THESE ARE REAL BARGAINS.

208 Duluth National Bank.

MYERS & WHIPPLE,

Careful and Judicious Investments Always Sure to Pay. We have some Bargains on Hand. Money to Loan in any amount. If not on hands can negotiate any amount on good property. Insurance carefully written in the best of companies. Call or write us. Duluth National Bank Building.

C. H. CRAVES & CO.,

INSURANCE

Real Estate & Loans

Acres at the West End.

Acres on the Hill.

Acres in the East End.

Lots in Portland.

150 Lots in Endion.

300 Lots in London.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO.

We have Genuine Bargains in Lots and Blocks near the Car

Works at West Duluth. All we ask is for parties to look at our prices, and if prices are not lower than any other property in same vicinity, do not buy of us. Call in. Write

WM. C. SHERWOOD & CO., ROOM 8, METROPOLITAN BLD'G.

ECKERT, WILLIAMS & CO.,

WHOLESALE COMMISSION

AND DEALERS IN

Corn, Oats, Flour, Mill Feed, Hay, Etc.

Office and Warehouse on Lake Ave., opp. Sutphin's Cold Storage

City Transportation, Freight & Express Drays

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.

Office 17 First Ave. West.